William Richard Wood Stephens

Standing Ground:

Standing Ground Thomas Buckley, 2002-12-23 This colorful richly textured account of spiritual training and practice within an American Indian social network emphasizes narrative over analysis Thomas Buckley's foregrounding of Yurok narratives creates one major level of dialogue in an innovative ethnography that features dialogue as its central theoretical trope Buckley places himself in conversation with contemporary Yurok friends and elders with written texts and with twentieth century anthropology as well He describes Yurok Indian spirituality as a significant field in which individual and society meet in dialogue cooperating resisting negotiating changing each other in manifold ways Culture here is not a thing but a process an emergence through time

Standing Ground Craig Steven Mullenix, 2011-09 Every choice has a consequence Clarisa has always been a good kid despite growing up in poverty in a poor neighborhood She works hard to keep up her grades at school while juggling many responsibilities at home like taking care of her baby brother and looking out for her younger sister Maribel Maribel is always getting into trouble and Clarisa is always the one reminding her that she shouldn't do those things Clarisa also tries to keep her boyfriend Israel out of trouble but he's a Gangsta determined to keep things as they always have been And trouble finds him When the three walk to school one day they encounter another gang A blade is drawn setting in motion the events that lead to Clarisa being assigned to detention Detention is such an awful experience that Clarisa makes a bold choice she will skip school to avoid it and hang out with Israel instead But skipping school is no picnic Every adult seems to know what Clarisa is doing and the other gang isn't finished with them yet Every choice makes a difference Find out what happens as a result of Clarisa's choices in Standing Ground

The Herons of Europe Claire Voisin, 2010-10-30 Although the majority of the world's Herons live in the tropics and subtropics Europe is home to nine species some large some small some colonial some solitary breeders Highly specialized birds they exhibit many interesting differences in their behaviour and ecology and are a favourite group for many ornithologists Voisin begins her book with a general description of the family before going on to treat each species in more detail The species accounts summarize such topics as field characters distribution population size breeding and feeding ecology and behaviour Numerous figures and tables are accompanied by fine drawings of behaviour by P L Suiro and colour and black and white pictures of each species by Gunnar Brusewitz

Being in Time to the Music David Ross, 2008-12-18 Being in time to the music from the ground up is a work in phenomenology where this term is broadly defined comprehending Plato Heidegger Hegel and Marx The most direct referent is Hegel together with the theoretical revolution that he initiated with Phenomenology of Mind This text's more general purpose is to set the tone for a 21st communism based upon the idea of dancing with death assuming full responsibility for one's mortality and abandoning the self to love as the meaning of existence This dance is choreographed through my conversations with the above mentioned writers In conversing with them I aim to displace if not usurp them from the throne of honour which is nothing more than the authority borrowed from me By this I do not intend to deny completely their other to me character However they exist or even figure for me both in the sense of of count having importance as those that I read and by which I read myself They have borrowed my authority namely my own potential to be an author So reading them is to re assume that borrowed authority The life of the reader to paraphrase Barthes begins with the death of the author
