Star Prey:

Starfish John M. Lawrence, 2013-03-15 The most complete illustrated scientific review of starfish ever published Among the most fascinating animals in the world's oceans are the more than 2 000 species of starfish Called Asteroids by scientists who study them after their taxonomic name Asteroidea or sea stars in some parts of the world starfish are easily recognized because of their star like form Starfish is a comprehensive volume devoted to the integrative and comparative biology and ecology of starfish Written by the world's leading experts on starfish the integrative section covers topics such as reproduction developmental biology and ecology larval ecology and the ecological role of starfish as a group The comparative section considers the biology and ecology of important species such as Acanthaster planci Heliaster helianthoides Asterias amurensis and Pisaster ochraceus Replete with detailed scientifically accurate illustrations and the latest research findings Starfish examines the important role of these invertebrates in the marine environment a topic of great interest because of their impact on the food web As major predators that are able to evert their stomach and wrap it around their prey starfish can have a significant impact on commercial fisheries Starfish are of interest not only to echinoderm specialists but also to marine biologists and invertebrate zoologists in general and increasingly to the medical community A starfish's ability to regenerate body parts is almost unequalled in the animal world making them ideal models for basic science studies on the topic Contributors Charles D Amsler Bill J Baker Mario Barahona Michael F Barker Maria Byrne Juan Carlos Castilla Katharina Fabricius Patrick Flammang Andrew S Gale Carlos F Gaymer Jean Francois Hamel Elise Hennebert John H Himmelman Michel Jangoux John M Lawrence Tatiana Manzur James B McClintock Bruce A Menge Annie Mercier Anna Metaxas Sergio A Navarette Timothy D O'Hara John S Pearse Carlos Robles Eric Sanford Robert E Scheibling Richard L Turner Carlos Renato R Ventura Kristina M Wasson Stephen A Watts Laboratory and Field Investigations in Marine Life Gordon Dudley, James Sumich, Virginia L. Cass-Dudley, 2011-03-15 This unique marine biology laboratory and field manual engages students in the excitement and challenges of understanding marine organisms and the environments in which they live Students will benefit from a thorough examination of topics such as the physical and chemical properties of seawater marine microbes algae and a wide variety of invertebrate and vertebrate animals through observation and critical thinking activities The manual also includes suggested topics for additional investigation which provides flexibility for both instructors and students who wish to further explore various topics of interest Laboratory and Field Investigations in Marine Life is the ideal complement to any marine biology teaching and learning package Serendipity James A. Estes, 2020-11-10 Many of the findings in the book are classics of ecology A rare and delightful insight into timely science Jane Lubchenco Nature Estes's refreshing narrative deftly weaves rigorous science with personal reflection to create an absorbing and introspective read that is equal parts memoir ecological textbook and motivational guidebook for young ecologists Science To newly minted biologist James Estes the sea otters he was studying in the leafy kelp forests off the coast of Alaska appeared to have an unbalanced relationship with their greater environment Gorging themselves on the sea urchins that grazed among the kelp these small charismatic mammals seemed to give little back in return But as Estes dug deeper he unearthed a far more complex relationship between the otter and its underwater environment discovering that otters play a critical role in driving positive ecosystem dynamics While teasing out the connective threads he began to question our assumptions about ecological relationships These questions would ultimately inspire a lifelong quest to better understand the surprising complexity of our natural world and the unexpected ways we discover it Serendipity tells the story of James Estes s life as a naturalist and the concepts that have driven his interest in researching the ecological role of top level predators Using the relationships between sea otters kelp and sea urchins as a touchstone Estes retraces his investigations of numerous other species ecosystems and ecological processes in an attempt to discover why ecologists can learn so many details about the systems in which they work and yet understand so little about the broader processes that influence these systems Part memoir part natural history and deeply inquisitive Serendipity will entertain and inform readers as it raises thoughtful questions about our relationship with the natural world

Laboratory and Field Investigations in Marine Life James L. Sumich, Gordon Dudley, 2005 The laboratory companion to Introduction to the Biology of Marine Life by James L Sumich and John F Morrissey this laboratory manual further engages students in the excitement and challenges of understanding marine organisms and the environments in which they live Students will benefit from a more thorough examination of the topics introduced in the text and lecture through observation and critical thinking activities in the Laboratory and Field Investigations in Marine Life Also the lab manual includes suggested topics for additional investigation which provides flexibility for both instructors and for students to explore further various topics of interest The only lab manual of its kind Laboratory and Field Investigations in Marine Life is the ideal complement to any marine biology teaching and learning package

Sea Stars of British Columbia, Southeast Alaska, and Puget Sound Philip Lambert, Royal British Columbia Museum, 2000 In this expanded and revised edition of Sea Stars of British Columbia originally published in 1981 Philip Lambert describes 43 species and subspecies of sea stars in the coastal waters of northwestern North America Lambert has expanded the geographic area to include the region from Glacier Bay in southeastern Alaska to the waters of Juan de Fuca Strait and Puget Sound of northern Washington The sea star fauna of this region is the most diverse of all the temperate waters of the world The great age of the Pacific Basin and the varied habitats along this complex coastline created by scouring glaciers and other natural forces have stimulated the evolution of many new forms Although he covers the coastal waters down to 200 metres below the surface Lambert lists 26 more species that live below 200 metres and 14 others that occur just outside the region covered by this book Annual Report University of Rhode Island.
