Buell,2014-02-10 The idea of the great American novel continues to thrive almost as vigorously as in its nineteenth century heyday defying 150 years of attempts to dismiss it as amateurish or obsolete In this landmark book the first in many years to take in the whole sweep of national fiction Lawrence Buell reanimates this supposedly antiquated idea demonstrating that its history is a key to the dynamics of national literature and national identity itself The dream of the G A N as Henry James nicknamed it crystallized soon after the Civil War In fresh in depth readings of selected contenders from the 1850s onward in conversation with hundreds of other novels Buell delineates four scripts for G A N candidates One illustrated by The Scarlet Letter is the adaptation of the novel s story line by later writers often in ways that are contrary to the original author s own design Other aspirants including The Great Gatsby and Invisible Man engage the American Dream of remarkable transformation from humble origins A third script seen in Uncle Tom s Cabin and Beloved is the family saga that grapples with racial and other social divisions Finally mega novels from Moby Dick to Gravity s Rainbow feature assemblages of characters who dramatize in microcosm the promise and pitfalls of democracy The canvas of the great American novel is in constant motion reflecting revolutions in fictional fashion the changing face of authorship and the inseparability of high culture from popular As Buell reveals the elusive G A N showcases the myth of the United States as a nation perpetually under construction

Encyclopedia of African-American Literature Wilfred D. Samuels,2015-04-22 Presents a reference on African American literature providing profiles of notable and little known writers and their works literary forms and genres critics and scholars themes and terminology and more Self-discovery and Authority in Afro-American Narrative Valerie Smith,1987 It is by telling the stories of their lives that black writers affirm and legitimize their autonomy So Smith argues in this exploration of the relationship between autobiography and fiction in Afro American writing Smith sees plot construction and characterization as providing these narrators with a measure of authority unknown in their lives
