

The Creation Poem

The birds and the bees, the flowers, and trees,
The stars in the sky, the little butterflies.
The rivers and creeks, the cool summer breeze,
The clouds and the leaves, the plants, and the seeds,
Everything we see, God made it all!

The rabbits and squirrels, little boys, and girls,
Our fingers and hands, each woman and man.
The dogs and their fleas, the creatures of the deep,
The he's and she's, yes, even you and even me,
Everything we see, God made it all!

The hippopotamuses and rhinoceroses,
Ticks, frogs and bats; lions, worms and gnats.
The ducks and geese, the cattle, and the sheep,
The little chickadees, giraffes with knobby knees,
Everything we see, God made it all!

The elephants and beavers, the lions, and zebras,
Ugly crocodiles, with big teeth and pretty smiles.
The lizards and whales, the skunk with his smell,
The pig with his germs and creepy, crawly worms,
Everything we see, God made it all!

From earth to sky, valleys to mountains high,
From canyons deep to the great majestic sea.
His handiwork is real, A Creator it reveals.
You too can believe through the witness of these,
Everything we see, God made it all!

All were young, all were poets, most were thoroughly assimilated into Soviet society whilst at the same time being rooted in Jewish culture and traditions. Their poetry, written mostly in Russian, Yiddish and Ukrainian, was coloured by their backgrounds by the literary and cultural climate that prevailed in the Soviet Union and was deeply concerned with their expectation of impending death at the hands of the Nazis. The book examines the poets' backgrounds, their lives, their poetry and their deaths. Like the experiences and poetry of the British First World War poets, the lives and poems of these young Jewish poets are extremely interesting and deeply moving.

The Works of Edgar Allan Poe: Poems and essays Edgar Allan Poe, 1875 "The" Tales and Poems ... Edgar Allan Poe, 1884 Poems and essays Edgar Allan Poe, 1883 A History of Ottoman Poetry Elias John Wilkinson Gibb, 1900 Elias John Wilkinson Gibb 1857-1901 was a Scottish Orientalist who was born and educated in Glasgow. After studying Arabic and Persian, he developed an interest in Turkish language and literature, especially poetry. In 1882 he published Ottoman Poems Translated into English Verse in the Original Forms. This was a forerunner to the six-volume classic presented here, A History of Ottoman Poetry, published in London between 1900 and 1909. Gibb died in London of scarlet fever at the age of 44, and only the first volume of his masterpiece appeared before his death. His family entrusted to his friend Edward Granville Browne (1862-1926), a distinguished Orientalist in his own right who had made a special study of Babism, the task of posthumously publishing the five remaining volumes. Browne characterized the work as one of the most important, if not the most important, critical studies of any Muhammadan literature produced in Europe during the last half century. The first volume contains a long and compelling introduction by Gibb on the entire subject in which he argues that Ottoman poetry often rose and fell in tandem with Ottoman power. Gibb divides Ottoman poetry into two great schools: the Old or Asiatic (circa 1300-1859) which generally was characterized by its deference to Persian influences, and the New or European (from 1859 onward) which was influenced by French and other Western poetry. According to Gibb, the Old or Asiatic School went through four periods: a formative period (1300-1450), a period (1450-1600) in which works were modeled after the Persian poet Jami, a period (1600-1700) dominated by the influences of Persian poets Urfi Shirazi and Sa'ib Tabrizi, and a period of uncertainty that lasted until 1859. The European school that followed was inaugurated by Ibrahim Sinasi (1826-71) who in 1859 produced a small but momentous collection of French poetry translated into Turkish verse The influence of the collection was far reaching and eventually changed the course of Ottoman poetry Gibb is known for his masterful translations that brilliantly render into English both the meaning and the form of Ottoman Persian and Arabic poetry For almost a century after his death a family trust financed the Gibb Memorial Series of editions and translations into English of Arabic Persian and Turkish texts And God Said Barbara Leff,2008-10 *Poetry, its origin, nature, and history.
