

The Three Spheres of Influence

Sphere of Concern

The biggest sphere refers to anything that might be of interest or concern to you, but is fully outside of your control and your ability to influence.

Sphere of Influence

This includes all areas where you can affect outcomes and engage with others, but where you don't have direct control. What sits within this sphere are things you can actually take action on in your organisation.

Sphere of Control

This is the smallest sphere, because the only thing you can truly control in life is yourself: your actions, your decisions, your behaviours, and your words.

The New Cold War and the Remaking of Regions James McGill Professor of International Relations T V Paul, T. V. Paul, Markus Kornprobst, 2025 This book argues that the world entered a new cold war when Russia invaded Ukraine in 2022 While the United States and its allies are in competition with China Russia and their allies this new cold war is far different from the old cold war The New Cold War and the Remaking of Regions shows how this new competition will be multipolar and multiplex not a world separated into rigid blocs Rather secondary powers small states and even non state actors will pragmatically pick and choose when their interests intersect with the great powers preserving their flexibility and influence The new cold war will play out in regional competitions that may lead to either peaceful change or conflict but it will also vary from region to region and across sectors such as the tech economy This volume contributes to the study of regionalism in international relations and is part of a new wave of scholarship that changes the focus of international relations from great powers alone to a recognition of the agency of others Contributors address the new cold war and regional ordering processes through different theoretical perspectives realist liberal constructivist and critical approaches A Complete Collection of the Treaties and Conventions, and Reciprocal Regulations at Present Subsisting Between Great Britain and Foreign Powers ...

Reclaiming American Catholicism John Gehring, 2025-08-01 A rich portrait of American Catholicism at a crossroads between crisis and opportunity The most vocal leaders in the U S Catholic hierarchy today embrace a culture war Catholicism Reclaiming American Catholicism makes the argument that recalibrating the Church's engagement with politics and public life is vital for both the Church and the country Gehring illuminates the Church that Pope Francis envisioned bruised hurting and dirty because it has been out on the streets through stories of Catholic advocates working on the border young Catholics who question Church teachings but are active in social justice campaigns LGBTQ Catholics within a Church that does not accept their full humanity and seminarians who work in the fields with migrants as part of their religious

Philosophy Reborn Part I: Purpose Shawn Alli, The disingenuous life is not worth living Do you think that people in Western European countries live in a democracy Do you think that science represents objective knowledge Do you think that the brain is the mind Do you think that human nature defines you If you answered yes to any of these questions then you re in for a rude awakening What is the purpose of life Can we create a real ethical democracy What is the mechanism of evolution Do your genes have intentionality How does innate knowledge exist Where do your ideas come from How do we create a fair justice system How do we create a better education system You ll find the answers to all of these questions in Part I

Spheres of Influence Lloyd C. Gardner,1993 The war within the war was the struggle among Roosevelt Churchill and Stalin for the shape of the world that would follow World War II That delicate diplomacy is traced and analyzed in Lloyd Gardner s brilliant reinterpretation of the negotiations that partitioned Europe and laid the foundations of the cold war Mr Gardner begins his story not conventionally in 1941 but with the British attempt to appease Hitler at Munich in 1938 There he argues just as after the war at Yalta the great powers were concerned to avoid a catastrophic war There were the roots of the territorial agreements that culminated at Yalta the spheres of influence which the Americans sought to avoid as an Old World curse on the possibilities of a freer and more liberal world economy Using the most recently opened sources including information from Soviet archives Mr Gardner captures the heady atmosphere of these momentous events in deft glimpses of the major personalities and a persuasive analysis of the course of diplomacy He notes the consistency of Stalin s aims the opportunism of Churchill for empire the dilemma of Franklin Roosevelt For historians no one s motives have been more puzzling than FDR s The president yearned to avoid the partition of Europe that his allies wanted Mr Gardner concludes but ultimately he settled for it in the hope of keeping the Big Three together to make a more lasting peace Playing for time FDR ran out of it The result was a divided Europe and the cold war which the author suggests may have been preferable to an unstable Europe or World War III
