The Missouri Persecutions:

The Missouri Persecutions Brigham Henry Roberts, 1900 The Missouri Persecutions B. H. Roberts, 2015-11-28 The Missouri Persecutions is a fair and balanced look at the early history and unfortunate conflicts of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints Written by B H Roberts one of the Church s best known defenders it tells the tragic story of conflict betrayal and war as the early Mormons were repeatedly driven from their homes because of their faith The Missouri Persecutions Brigham Henry Roberts, 1998 The Missouri Persecutions (Classic Reprint) Brigham H. Roberts, 2017-05-22 Excerpt from The Missouri Persecutions It is in part to correct these false statements and guard our youth against the in uence of such calumnious insinuations that I tell this story of the Missouri Persecutions not that the history in these pages is written for the purpose of glozing over the defects in the character of the early members of The Church or to claim for them absolute freedom from errors in judgment or actual sinfulness in conduct I have not written what may be called argumentative history only so far as a statement of the truth may be considered an argument After these pages are read I feel sure that no one will be able to accuse me of failing to point out the errors of the early mem bers of The Church indeed I have been careful to call atten tion to the complaints which the Lord made against their con duct the reproofs of his inspired servants and the repeated warnings sent to them by the Prophet Joseph Smith concerning the results of their conduct if there was not a speedy repent ance About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works The Missouri Persecutions Brigham Henry Roberts, 2013-09 This historic book may have numerous typos and missing text Purchasers can usually download a free scanned copy of the original book without typos from the publisher Not indexed Not illustrated 1900 edition Excerpt CHAPTER XXII NEGOTIATIONS HP HE day following this providential storm the camp moved out into the prairie some five miles where there was a better chance to defend themselves Here the next day Colonel Sconce and two other leading men from Ray County called upon the camp to learn what the intentions of the brethren were Said the colonel I see there is an Almighty power that protects this people for I started from Richmond with a company of armed men having a full determination to destroy you but was kept back by the storm and was not able to reach you Having said so much he was seized with such excitement that he trembled from head to foot like an aspen leaf and had to take a seat in order to compose himself Joseph in a lengthy speech related the trials and persecutions of the saints particularly the sufferings of those in Jackson County He related the story of the travels of Zion s Camp how they had come one thousand miles to assist their afflicted brethren by bringing them clothing etc and to aid them in returning to their homes and maintaining them and denied the infamous reports circulated to arouse the anger of the people against the exiled saints This speech was so simple so pathetic and yet so forcible that the strangers were melted by its spirit so that they wept at the story of the persecutions of God's people At the close of the speech they arose and gave their hands to the youthful speaker promising to use all their influence to allay the excitement and correct the false impressions that had gone out respecting the object of the expedition a promise they faithfully kept It is said of the Prophet Joseph that if he could but once get the attention even of his most bitter enemies
