The Museum Of Happiness A Novel:

The Museum of Happiness Ruth Adams, 2025-02 The Museum of Happiness was established at the end of the last century before the Great War It held on through that surviving on the glimmers of optimism that had flickered and gone out only to be re ignited again After that it offered free admission through the Great Depression and then charged a minimal amount per ticket The second world war hit and the premises suffered shelling But the owners re built it and re imagined the exhibits No one touched the hole in the ceiling but mounted a glass mosaic that covered everything with chinks of rainbow light When the sun shone It had its hey day in the peace loving sixties As the fear of nuclear war rose and subsided there were hard times to be had At the start of the next century as his parents became in capable of caring for it Stan took over He met Emily on one of his research trips brought her home and married her They had a son who outdid every other joyful exhibit they had For ten years Then the pandemic hit raging through every family on every continent Having a weak constitution their son could not recover At that time because of human neglect and carelessness the sun stopped shining Plants stopped growing Animals died For ten years Stan stayed inside with Emily fearing the pandemic unable to even form the word hope The story opens as Stan faces a turning point For the first time since before things got bad he decides to see if there is any way of reviving the Museum He knows if he succeeds then he will be close to saving happiness for himself his wife and ultimately the world around it

The Museum of Happiness Jesse Lee Kercheval, 1993-11-12 Explores the lives and relationships of Ginny Gillespie a young widow who flees Florida and Roland Keppi a half Alsatian half German carnival worker who meet in Paris in 1929 separate when Roland is deported and reunite after each takes a different path and journey

Building Fiction Jesse Lee Kercheval, 2003 No one looks at structure like Jesse Lee Kercheval She builds a work of fiction just as an architect would design a house with an eye for details and how all parts of a story or novel interconnect Even with the most dynamic language images and characters no piece of fiction will work without a strong infrastructure Kercheval shows how to build that structure using such tools as point of view characterization pacing and flashbacks Building Fiction will help you envision the landscape of your fiction and build great stories there
