The Health Promoting School Policy Research And Practice:

The Health Promoting School Susan Denman, Alysoun Moon, Carl Parsons, David Stears, 2003-09-02 Under the UK Labour Government 1997-2001 there have been clear signs of a willingness to revive the pastoral curriculum in schools and to develop stronger links between the health and education sectors. This book, based on empirical work undertaken in England and throughout Europe, explores such government policy and, in particular, the development of the health promoting school. The authors provide a detailed examination of the health promoting school movement in Europe, including application of concepts, policies, research, and practice to the National Healthy Schools Standards in England. A whole school approach to the promotion of health, well-being, and educational achievement is taken throughout the book. This approach includes analysis of such subjects and issues as personal, social, and health education; citizenship; environmental education; democracy; self-esteem; social capital; and empowerment. The Health Promoting School Policy Research and Practice is a timely publication that will serve to inform the practice of teachers in schools and higher education, school management, student teachers, and health professionals, health promotion, and public health specialists. The Health Promoting School, 2004

Case Studies in Global School Health Promotion Cheryl Vince Whitman, Carmen E. Aldinger, 2009-04-29 A growing body of research identifies strong links between children's health, social, and educational outcomes. It also notes the reciprocal benefits of access to quality education on individual and family health status. In response to these findings, the World Health Organization developed the concept of the Health Promoting School (HPS), a living catalyst for healthy lives and for positive changes that students can take home and into the community. Case Studies in Global School Health Promotion provides readers with a theoretical and research base needed to understand the methods used in communities all over the world to put this captivating concept in place. Case examples from over two dozen countries representing urban and rural areas in developing and developed nations outline the strategies taken to implement HPS programs in individual schools, municipalities, and nations. For each program case study, authors explain the problems they tackled, their motivation, and supports to respond creatively, and the barriers they faced. In the cases, authors describe the capacities and infrastructure they created and mechanisms for cooperation, as well as the personnel, financial, and time requirements involved. Case studies were drawn from the following regions: Africa, The Americas, Europe, Eastern Mediterranean, South and Southeast Asia, Western Pacific. Case Studies in Global School Health Promotion offers a world of insights, ideas, and guidance to those addressing social determinants of health at this formative stage, including education and health policy makers, professionals, and administrators, and researchers in national governments, universities, local schools, community, non-governmental organizations, and civil society. The material provides interesting and useful information to those dedicated to these issues within WHO FRESH Partners and other United Nations agencies. It is also an instructive text for graduate students in public health, education, allied health professions, and social sciences. The Implementation of Health Promoting Schools

Oddrun Samdal, Louise Rowling, 2013 Developing a healthy school has been a key aim for many schools across the globe yet achieving successful implementation and sustaining the positive benefits has proven to be challenging This text draws upon their wide range of international expertise and experience to demonstrate how guidelines can best be implemented
