The Papo Lady:

The Papo Lady Elenir Nunes Morse, 2002-11-11 The Papo Lady is about a mysterious woman who comes to a small town every ten years carrying on her head a basket with nine wishes some she shares some she spares and others she doesn't care. Whatever way someone gets the wish his life is forever changed.

Women Writing Women Teresa Cajiao Salas, Margarita Vargas, 1997-02-13 While these playwrights articulate concerns similar to those of their male counterparts social injustice the question of identity the role of art the power of writing their feminist perspectives offer a fresh view of Spanish America by challenging traditional male representations of women. While the plays humorously reveal the cultural and social politics of each country they also examine seriously the absurdities of everyday life. The playwrights include Isidora Aguirre Chile Sabina Berman Mexico Myrna Casas Puerto Rico Teresa Marichal Puerto Rico Diana Raznovich Argentina Mariela Romero Venezuela Beatriz Seibel Argentina and Maruxa Vilalta Mexico.

A Lady's Cruise in a French Man-of-war

Constance Frederica Gordon Cumming, My dear Eisa I have only time for a line to enclose a packet of seed of a lovely shrub which bears clusters of golden bells. Also to tell you that I am just starting for a cruise in a French man of war the Seignelay commanded by Captain Aube who is taking Monseigneur Elloi the Roman Catholic Bishop of Samoa a round of his diocese. Both are exceedingly pleasant and have made themselves much liked here. The officers are a particularly gentlemanlike set. Judge of my amazement accustomed to the rigid regulations of the English navy when these as one man echoed an invitation given to me by the commander to go for a cruise over half the South Seas where they purpose touching at many isles which I could by no possibility have any other chance of seeing. Several of these most kind friends had placed their cabins at the disposal of the captain that he might offer me whichever he considered most suitable. For the first day or two after this invitation was made we all treated it as a pleasant joke never imagining that it could be quite in earnest but when at length we all became convinced that it really was so we agreed that there really could be no reason for refusing so rare a chance of an expedition which will be to me most delightful. So I am actually to embark this afternoon. Lady Gordon and dear little sailor Jack and Captain Knollys accompanying me on board to see me fairly started. This evening we sail for the Friendly Isles Tonga and thence proceed to the Navigator's Isles Samoa where there have been serious disturbances and where my friend Mrs Liardet wife of the British Consul has for some time had about thirty chiefs living in sanctuary in her house. I have long promised to visit her should an opportunity arise so this is an admirable one. I shall probably take a return passage thence in a German ship and rejoin Lady Gordon at Loma Loma a point in this group about one hundred miles from here. My French friends urge my going on to Tahiti the loveliest isle in the South Seas but the utter uncertainty of how to get back thence either here or to Tasmania where Lady Gordon hopes to spend Christmas makes me hesitate. If I could reach the Sandwich Isles I should then be on the direct line of the Pacific mail steamers but Tahiti is utterly out of the world and till the Seignelay arrives there she will not receive her further orders and may perhaps be sent to Valparaiso which has no attractions for me So my line of march is at present somewhat undecided I think I shall almost certainly return here from Samoa but as B long ago said of my wandering propensities that I was just like a knotless thread I may perhaps slip through and you may hear of my vanishing into space This place is looking lovely It has improved wonderfully in these two years and has become so very homelike and pleasant that I quite grudge leaving it with even the vague feeling of uncertainty which attaches to any long journey and though we all expect to return here after a winter in Tasmania still so many contingencies may arise that one always feels a home in the colonies to be a very insecure tenure Now I must finish my packing which requires a good deal of consideration in case it should turn out that my locomotive demon urges me onward and that I do visit the Hawaiian Isles and then Tasmania ere returning here I wish you could see my room here now It really is a museum the walls covered with trophies of all the strange Fijian things I have collected during the last two years I have just finished a series of about sixty studies of Fijian pottery representing a hundred and fifty pieces all different and made without any wheel by the wives of the poor fishermen Some of the forms are most artistic and the colour is very rich No time for more I will write next from Tonga
