centuries a field that in contrast to the study of the Jewish diaspora in Europe and the Americas has been critically neglected This volume gathers fourteen of Eber's most salient articles and essays on the exchanges between Jewish and Chinese cultures making available to students scholars and general readers a representative sample of the range and depth of her important work in the field of Jews in China Jews in China delineates the centuries long reciprocal dialogue between Jews Jewish culture and China all under the overarching theme of cultural translation The first section of the book sets forth a sweeping overview of the history of Jews in China beginning in the twelfth century and concluding with a detailed assessment of the two crucial years leading up to the Second World War The second section examines the translation of Chinese classics into Hebrew and the translation of the Hebrew Bible into Chinese The third and final section turns to modern literature bringing together eight essays that underscore the cultural reciprocity that takes place through acts of translation The centuries long relationship between Judaism and China is often overlooked in the light of the extensive discourse surrounding European and American Judaism With this volume Eber reminds us that we have much to learn from the intersections between Jewish identity and Chinese culture Rethinking Japanese Modernism Roy Starrs, 2011-10-14

Edited by Roy Starrs this collection of essays by an international group of leading Japan scholars presents new research and thinking on Japanese modernism a topic that has been increasingly recognized in recent years to be key to an understanding of contemporary Japanese culture and society By adopting an open multidisciplinary and transnational approach to this multifaceted topic the book sheds new light both on the specific achievements and on the often unexpected interrelationships of the writers artists and thinkers who helped to define the Japanese version of modernism and modernity Specific topics addressed include the literary modernism of major writers such as Akutagawa Kawabata Kajii Miyazawa and Murakami avant called Operation Rolling Thunder the US Air Force began to look for ways to overcome technological geographical and political challenges in North Vietnam and use limited air power more effectively In 1972 the two Linebacker campaigns joined with other air operations to make a dramatic although temporary difference While they unleashed powerful B 52 area bombers the campaigns also demonstrated the efficacy of newly developed laser guided precision bombs Drawing upon twenty years of research in classified records Wayne Thompson integrates operational political and personal detail to present a full history of the Air Force role in the war against North Vietnam He provides an unprecedented view of the motivations and actions of the people involved from aircrews to generals to politicians in every phase of the air campaigns He outlines for instance the political reasons for President Johnson s reluctance to use B 52 bombers against major North Vietnamese targets He also examines how the media influenced US policy and how US prisoners became the war s most celebrated heroes The war in Southeast Asia ultimately pushed the Air Force toward adopting more flexible tactics and incorporating increasingly sophisticated weapons that would shape later conflicts Tohoku Psychologica Folia ,1972 One Can Think
