Encounter with Art Reid Hastie, Christian Schmidt,      New Scientist ,2007      Landscape of Transformations Michael W. Fazio,2010 Landscape of Transformations presents a history of Birmingham s built environment and chronicles the development of the city as it became the dominant industrial powerhouse of the South during the nineteenth century and well into the twentieth This is a work of broad cultural interpretation integrating industrial and commercial architecture planned subdivision development and the housing of the urban poor while emphasizing the city s many transformations In an unusual approach Michael W Fazio interprets the human constructions and natural landscapes of Birmingham as his text a medium in which society has not only located and contained itself but also encoded its values for subsequent generations Fazio allows this landscape to speak openly sometimes eloquently and even tragically about historical events For example on the civil rights struggle rather than delving exclusively into political machinations and social structure the author considers some of the city s most important civil rights developments through their physical contexts the buildings streets and landscapes where they took place and looks for meaning in them In addition Fazio traces the history of Birmingham through the events circumstances and personalities that have shaped the city The book begins with an exploration of the preindustrial landscape continues with a look at the development of the iron and steel industries and culminates with an analysis of the planning developments that produced the University of Alabama in Birmingham and its medical center which replaced declining heavy industry as foundations of the local economy Richly illustrated with black and white and color photographs maps and drawings Landscape of Transformations is one of the few studies to focus on industrial cities of the heartland Architectural historians urban planners and historic preservationists will be fascinated by this profound story of coal iron architecture and the people behind the emerging personality of a leading southern city Michael W Fazio is professor emeritus in the School of Architecture at Mississippi State University He is coauthor of Buildings Across Time An Introduction to World Architecture and The Domestic Architecture of Benjamin Henry Latrobe      New Scientist and Science Journal ,1961

Factsheet Five ,1994      Preservation News ,1984      Landscape Architecture ,1996      Cadence Bob Rusch,1994
New Society ,1967      Pathways of Memory and Power Thomas Alan Abercrombie,1998

Pathways of Memory and Power crosses the disciplinary boundary where anthropology and history meet exploring the cultural frontier of the colonial and postcolonial Andes Thomas A Abercrombie uses his fieldwork in the Aymara community of Santa Barbara de Culta Bolivia as a starting point for his ambitious examination of the relations between European forms of historical consciousness and indigenous Andean ways of understanding the past Writing in an inviting first person narrative style Abercrombie confronts the ethics of fieldwork by comparing ethnographic experience to the power laden contexts that produce historical sources Making clear the early and deep intermingling of practices and world views among Spaniards and Andeans Christians and non Christians Abercrombie critiques both the romanticist tendency to regard Andean culture as still separate from and resistant to European influences and the melodramatic view that all indigenous practices have been obliterated by colonial and national elites He challenges prejudices that from colonial days to the present have seen Andean historical knowledge only in mythic narratives or narratives of personal experience Bringing an ethnographer s approach to historiography he shows how complex Andean rituals that hybridize European and indigenous traditions such as libation dedications and llama sacrifices held on saints day festivals are in fact potent evidence of social memory in the community
