Christine Rimmer, Christine Flynn, 2003 The Marriage Medallion Christine Rimmer, 2010-05-01 When I next see this medallion it will be around the neck of my betrothed With those words originally uttered by his father Prince Eric Greyfell dismissed Brit Thorson s theory about the mysterious medallion she thought she was given for luck But she knew he was correct For the man who stood before her was not only her temptation he was her destiny Eric knew that Brit was the woman he was destined to spend eternity with Now if he could just put an end to her incessant questions For she was sure that she had seen him with her dead brother Prince Valbrand a man whose status Eric had vowed never to reveal But someday soon Eric would be making a different kind of promise to Brit one that would have to take precedence over all other vows The

Architectural Images in Roman State Reliefs, Coins, and Medallions Melanie Dara Grunow, 2002 Depictions of architecture in the official state reliefs coins and medallions of the Roman emperors have much to reveal about how the Romans conceptualized and manipulated the urban environment of the city of Rome for symbolic and ideological purposes Such images have always been analyzed for the valuable evidence they provide concerning the original appearance of badly damaged and lost structures But to consider the architectural images in the background of figural scenes depicting rituals and historic events primarily as topographic evidence does not do them justice In this dissertation I place architectural backgrounds in their contexts within compositions within the state imagery of the Roman emperors and within the topography of Rome A Catalogue of the Ancient Sculptures Preserved in the Municipal Collections of Rome
