Survey Methods for Ecosystem Management Wayne C. Myers, 1977 The Bitterroot Ecosystem Management Research Project ,2000 The varied topics presented in these symposium proceedings represent the diverse nature of the Bitterroot Ecosystem Management Research Project BEMRP Separated into six sections the papers cover the different themes researched by BEMRP collaborators as well as brief overviews of five other ecosystem management projects The sections are Understanding the Ecosystem Its Parts and Processes Understanding the People and Their Relationship to the Ecosystem Implementation for Specific Landscape Areas Overviews of Other Ecosystem Management Research Projects in the West Fieldtrip Abstracts and Poster Session Abstracts The papers presented here are from a symposium held in order to summarize research conducted under the first five year charter for BEMRP The symposium was held 1999 May 18 20 in Missoula Montana for interested public land managers and researchers Managing Forest Ecosystems to Conserve Fungus Diversity and Sustain Wild Mushroom Harvests David Pilz, R. Molina, 1996 Federal Research on Environmental Biology ,1992 The Office of Environmental Management Technical Reports ,1997 Global to Local: Ecological Land Classification Richard A. Sims, Ian G.W. Corns, Karel Klinka, 2012-12-06 Ecological Land Classification ELC refers to the description of land resources at a range of spatial resolutions i.e. global to local and for a range of purposes or values The emerging science of ELC is in fact a very carefully integrated blend of vegetation and earth sciences climatology cartography and ecology with a range of new technologies and methodologies including computer based geographic information systems remote sensing and simulation modelling This publication defines the current state of the art of ELC It provides particular insight into the role of ELC in current and future forest resource planning and management and emphasizes its application and usefulness at various spatial scales for a variety of geographic locations and under a range of management scenarios constraints The book is an invaluable and substantial reference source about the current trends in ELC and will be of particular value to ecologists foresters geographers resource managers wildlife biologists GIS and remote sensing specialists educators and students Forestry Research West ,1993 The Analytic Hierarchy Process in Natural Resource and Environmental Decision Making Daniel L. Schmoldt, 2001-06-30 Decision making in land management involves preferential selection among competing alternatives Often such choices are difficult owing to the complexity of the decision context Because the analytic hierarchy process AHP developed by Thomas Saaty in the 1970s has been successfully applied to many complex planning resource allocation and priority setting problems in business energy health marketing natural resources and transportation more applications of the AHP in natural resources and environmental sciences are appearing regularly This realization has prompted the authors to collect some of the important works in this area and present them as a single volume for managers and scholars Because land management contains a somewhat unique set of features not found in other

AHP application areas such as site specific decisions group participation and collaboration and incomplete scientific knowledge this text fills a void in the literature on management science and decision analysis for forest resources
