Susan In America:

America After the Fall Sarah L. Burns, Teresa A. Carbone, Annelise K. Madsen, Sarah Kelly Oehler, 2016-01-01 A unique look at America's quest to carve out an artistic identity during the Depression era. Through 50 masterpieces of painting this fascinating catalogue chronicles the turbulent economic, political, and aesthetic climate of the 1930s. This decade was a supremely creative period in the United States as the nation's artists, novelists, and critics struggled through the Great Depression seeking to define modern American art. In the process, many painters challenged and reworked the meanings and forms of modernism, reaching no simple consensus. This period was also marked by an astounding diversity of work as artists sought styles ranging from abstraction to Regionalism to Surrealism that allowed them to engage with issues such as populism, labor, social protest, and to employ an urban and rural iconography including machines, factories, and farms. Seminal works by Edward Hopper, Grant Wood, Thomas Hart Benton, Georgia O'Keeffe, Aaron Douglas, Charles Sheeler, Stuart Davis, and others show such attempts to capture the American character. These groundbreaking paintings highlighting the relationship between art and national experience demonstrate how creativity, experimentation, and revolutionary vision flourished during a time of great uncertainty.

The Religious History of American Women Catherine A. Brekus, 2009-11-13 More than a generation after the rise of women's history alongside the feminist movement, it is still difficult to observe women in histories of American religion. Mary Dyer, a Quaker who was hanged for heresy; Lizzie Robinson, a former slave and laundress who sold Bibles door to door; Sally Priesand, a Reform rabbi; Estela Ruiz, who saw a vision of the Virgin Mary; how do these women's stories change our understanding of American religious history and American women's history? In this provocative collection of twelve essays, contributors explore how considering the religious history of American women can transform our dominant historical narratives. Covering a variety of topics, including Mormonism, the women's rights movement, Judaism, witchcraft trials, the civil rights movement, Catholicism, everyday religious life, Puritanism, African American women's activism, and the Enlightenment, the volume enhances our understanding of both religious history and women's history. Taken together, these essays sound the call for a new, more inclusive history. Contributors: Ann Braude, Harvard Divinity School; Catherine A. Brekus, University of Chicago Divinity School; Anthea D. Butler, University of Rochester; Emily Clark, Tulane University; Kathleen Sprows Cummings, University of Notre Dame; Amy Koehlinger, Florida State University; Janet Moore Lindman, Rowan University; Susanna Morrill, Lewis and Clark College; Kristy Nabhan, Warren Augustana College; Pamela S. Nadell, American University; Elizabeth Reis, University of Oregon; Marilyn J. Westerkamp, University of California Santa Cruz.

Comparative Studies in Asian and Latin American Philosophies Stephanie Rivera Berruz,Leah Kalmanson,2018-04-05 Comparative philosophy is an important site for the study of non Western philosophical traditions but it has long been associated with East West dialogue Comparative Studies in Asian and Latin American Philosophies shifts this trajectory to focus on cross cultural conversations across Asia and Latin America A team of international contributors discuss subjects ranging from Orientalism in early Latin American studies of Asian thought to liberatory politics in today's globalized world. They bring together resources including Latin American feminism, Aztec teachings on ethics, Buddhist critiques of essentialism, and Confucian morality. Chapters address topics such as educational reform, the social practices surrounding breastfeeding, martial arts as political resistance, and the construction of race and identity. Together, the essays reflect the philosophical diversity of Asia and Latin America while foregrounding their shared concerns on issues of Eurocentrism and coloniality. By bringing these critical perspectives to bear on the theories and methods of cross-cultural philosophy, Comparative Studies in Asian and Latin American Philosophies offers new insights into the nature and practice of philosophical comparison.
