Sweet Low:

Stand the Storm Lynn Abbott, Doug Seroff, 2025-07-15 Black education in the South was the great social program of the post Civil War era. Desperately strapped for operating capital, the first freedmen's schools resorted to a bold fundraising experiment. Student troupes were sent to the North singing Negro spirituals, the sacred songs of slavery, in order to generate goodwill and entice financial support. The Fisk University Jubilee Singers set this strategy in motion in 1871. In the wake of their success, it was adopted by HBCUs throughout the Southland. Intrepid student singers introduced the outside world to the Negro spirituals, the genuine jewels they brought from their bondage and sang up school buildings in the process. Negro spiritual singing was a revelation for the northern public; it was their initial exposure to an emergent, distinctly American kind of creative energy. Male quartets became the standard bearers of this venerable Black music tradition. In Stand the Storm: Spiritual Quartet Singing in the Struggle for Black Education, award-winning authors Lynn Abbott and Doug Seroff dive into the history of three generations of fundraising quartets from seven representative schools: Fisk, Hampton, Tuskegee, Penn Calhoun, Utica, and Piney Woods. They acknowledge the heroic founders of the schools and restore the names of forgotten singers to the historical record. They reevaluate the industrial education model that guided these schools. Finally, they plot the evolution of Negro spiritual singing after Emancipation by scrutinizing early published song collections and comparing them with songbooks and recordings from subsequent eras.

Timothy Rasinski, Lorraine Griffith, 2008-04-11 Includes 1 resource CD-ROM containing reproducibles of poems, songs, and scripts and one audio CD of recordings of the songs from the book Historic Negro Spirituals as Biblical Interpretation. Christa Klingbeil Dixon, 2024-12-15 Dr. Christa K. Dixon, 1935-2003, grew up during the time of World War 2 where her father, a German Confessing Church pastor, regularly visited American POW camps and young Christa heard African American soldiers singing spirituals. Her fascination grew, but Dixon's interests became quite focused on her interest in how the famous spirituals interpreted the Bible. In the mid 1960s, Dr. Dixon earned her PhD working on Negro Spirituals in Germany and published the text that formed from her years of research and long-lasting passion for the spirituals she heard during her visits to the prisoner camps with her father. A work of careful analysis and scholarship, Dixon's study has since been out of print but is now newly translated and presented for an audience to rediscover. In John Lovell's important 1972 monograph Black Song: The Forge and the Flame, he wrote, "Perhaps the most intensive study of Biblical influences in the spiritual is found in Christa Dixon's Wesen und Wandel geistlicher Volkslieder: Negro Spirituals." Her analyses are not only deeply intensive but quite creative. In this book, Drs. Kim R. Harris and Daniel L. Smith, Christopher provide not only a translation of the published German work but also contribute two new essays to accompany this timeless study as both modern critique and long-overdue appreciation.
