Standards of Care in Emergency Medicine Herbert N. Wigder,Jeffrey C. Moffat,1998-01-01 Standards of Care in Emergency Medicine H. Neil Wigder,Jeffrey C. Moffat,1998 Fear of malpractice affects the way physicians practice medicine Continuing concerns over malpractice are eased considerably when physicians and attorneys have an understanding of medical standards of care Such standards established by a consensus of physicians exist though they are not formally codified This manual written for both physicians and attorneys defines these standards of care and delineates their relationship to legal issues that arise in malpractice actions Guidelines for the Treatment of Alcohol Problems Paul S. Haber,Benjamin C. Riordan,2021-04-01 The Australian Guidelines for the Treatment of Alcohol Problems have been periodically developed over the past 25 years In 1993 the first version of these guidelines titled An outline for the management of alcohol problems Quality assurance in the treatment of drug dependence project was published Mattick Haber et al 2009 The present version of the Guidelines was also commissioned by the Commonwealth of Australia to remain current and integrated with the updated NHMRC consumption guidelines 2020 In order to ensure that guidelines remain relevant the next set of guidelines should be updated in 2025 consistent with NHMRC recommendation that guidelines be updated every five years These guidelines aim to provide up to date evidence based information to clinicians on available treatments for people with alcohol problems and are largely directed towards individual clinicians in practice such as primary care physicians general practitioners nursing staff specialist medical practitioners psychologists and other counsellors and other health professionals Some chapters highlight service or system level issues that impact on clinicians and their patients These include recommendations concerning Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples culturally and linguistically diverse groups stigma and discrimination Elsewhere organisation capacity is implied such as medical resources for withdrawal management where recommendations indicate use of medications As all forms of treatment will not be readily available or suitable for all populations or settings these guidelines may require interpretation and adaptation Emergency Medical Services Jane H.
