Stanley Spencer Sir Stanley Spencer, Keith Bell, 1992 Stanley Spencer's reputation has grown rapidly in recent years and his visionary contribution to British art and his true stature as an artist are now internationally recognised. This is an abridged version of the 1992 catalogue raisonné of Spencer's work compiled by the same author, reproducing many of the illustrations and some of the original narrative. The work is presented chronologically and divided between figurative and landscape.

Art in America Frank Jewett Mather, Frederic Fairchild Sherman, 1998-07 Stanley Spencer Kitty Hauser, 2001 One of the most highly regarded and well known of all twentieth century British artists. Stanley Spencer 1891-1959 is famous for two things. He immortalized the Berkshire village of Cookham where he was born and spent most of his life. And he celebrated sex both on his canvases and through his unconventional understanding of relationships. Perhaps best known for his paintings of biblical subjects set in and around Cookham in particular The Resurrection. Cookham. Spencer was also an official war artist during both World Wars. In his paintings and in his life he reveled in the intense ordinariness of the world he inhabited. His mature art fuses things most often thought of as separate religion and sex, the real and the imaginary, public and private, the young and the old, the self and others. In this excellent introduction to the artist and his work, Kitty Hauser reveals how Spencer's art grew out of places, experiences and social relations that enriched his imagination. Though Spencer is often described as visionary, this book shows that his brand of mysticism was firmly grounded in material reality in landscapes, homes and the human relationships he felt so strongly.

Stanley Spencer, 1955 Stanley Spencer Sir Stanley Spencer, Eric Newton, 1957 Stanley Spencer, 1891-1959 Sir Stanley Spencer, Elizabeth Rothenstein, 1962

The 1930s Jean Clair, Pierre Théberge, 2008 On the heels of the Roaring Twenties the 1930s which spanned from the economic crisis of 1929 to the outbreak of the Second World War was a dark decade. Beyond similar governmental mechanisms these regimes shared an ideology the will to create what they called the New Man. This decade began with a more or less innocent dream of the theme of the original egg germination the harmonious growth of a fabric both biological and social but ended with the nightmarish discovery of the corpses in the concentration camps by the armies of liberation in 1945.
