The Impact of Binary Stars on Stellar Evolution Giacomo Beccari,Henri M. J. Boffin,2019-04-18 Stars are mostly found in binary and multiple systems with at least 50% of all solar like stars having companions this fraction approaches 100% for the most massive stars A large proportion of these systems interact and alter the structure and evolution of their components leading to exotic objects such as Algol variables blue stragglers and other chemically peculiar stars but also to phenomena such as non spherical planetary nebulae supernovae and gamma ray bursts While it is understood that binaries play a critical role in the Initial Mass Function the interactions among binary systems significantly affect the dynamical evolution of stellar clusters and galaxies This interdisciplinary volume presents results from state of the art models and observations aimed at studying the impact of binaries on stellar evolution in resolved and unresolved populations Serving as a bridge between observational and theoretical astronomy it is a comprehensive review for researchers and advanced students of astrophysics

Observational Imprints of Binary Evolution on B- and Be-star Populations Julia Bodensteiner,2022-11-30 This book presents novel observational evidence toward detecting and characterizing the products of massive interacting binary stars As a majority of massive stars are born in close binary systems a large number of so called massive binary interaction products are predicted to exist however few have been identified so far Based on observations with the largest telescopes around the world equipped with state of the art instrumentation this book helps to remedy this situation In her outstanding PhD thesis Julia Bodensteiner identifies a new class of post interaction binaries in a short lived phase just briefly after the initially more massive star has been stripped of part of its envelope She further provides new evidence for the Be phenomenon to largely result from binary interactions These results represented a new and testable prediction for the evolution of these stars and opened up a new way forward for identifying hundreds of post interaction products Finally using the MUSE integral field spectrograph at the Very Large Telescope in Chile the author presents a novel spectroscopic campaign focusing on the 40 Myr old star cluster NGC 330 in the Small Magellanic Clouds Combined with photometric observations from the Hubble Space Telescope the MUSE data allow to characterize the entire massive star population of NGC 330 revealing their multiplicity properties and rotational velocities and providing unique observational constraints on their binary evolution history This is made possible by the developments of novel numerical methods allowing to extract star spectra from the MUSE integral field spectroscopic data and to characterize their properties by the simultaneous comparison of MUSE spectroscopy and Hubble photometry with atmospheric models This book is a partly re written version of the author's thesis offering a highly readable coherent text presenting not only new insights into the properties of binary interaction products but also giving students an excellent introduction into the field Protostars and Planets VI Henrik Beuther, Ralf S. Wagner, Jan Mewis, 2021-04-15 An essential text on practical application theory and simulation written by an international coalition of experts in the field and edited by the authors of Colloidal Suspension Rheology This up to date work builds upon the prior work as a valuable guide to formulation and processing as well as fundamental rheology of colloidal suspensions Thematically theory and simulation are connected to industrial application by consideration of colloidal interactions particle properties and suspension microstructure Important classes of model suspensions including gels glasses and soft particles are covered so as to develop a deeper understanding of industrial systems ranging from carbon black slurries paints and coatings asphalt cement and mine tailings to natural suspensions such as biocolloids protein solutions and blood Systematically presenting the established facts in this multidisciplinary field this book is the perfect aid for academic researchers graduate students and industrial practitioners alike A Catalogue of 10,300 Multiple and Double Stars John Frederick William Herschel, 1874
