Starting A Band:

How to Start a Band Micah Nichol, 2015-06-19 Are you a talented musician who's looking to put together a band and with any luck rise to stardom be paid to perform in front of a live audience and even hear your music on the radio Have you considered though that this effort is going to take more than just a group of musicians While musicians often move people with their euphonious offerings it's rare that they have a level headed business mindset too so for that reason it's critical to designate one person who can act as motivator counselor and business advisor all rolled into one These functions are typically provided by a dedicated manager who also acts as an accountant a sales person and spokesperson a public relations officer and legal aid and whatever else the band may need them to be at the drop of a hat Without the right person performing these functions your band won't get much further than your parents garage The good news is that starting out you can actually operate as your own band manager for a while At least until your band becomes a household name and you can't even go to the grocery store without being asked for an autograph No matter how hot your music is the management of the band is what will ultimately determine your success So if you're up for the challenge of wearing two hats one as musician and the other as manager I encourage you to learn exactly what it takes to manage your band and actively seek out your band's popularity and financial success This book is designed to teach you everything you need to know about putting together and managing a band

Starting a Band, 2012 Tips and advice on starting your own band and making your way through the pitfalls of the music industry

Start a Band: How to Land Gigs and Build a Huge Fanbase Amanda B., 2012-03-02 ABOUT THE BOOK Being at college should be among the best days of your life You are finally away from home mixing with new people and you have the freedom to decide what you want to do and when you want to do it New experiences and interests are bound to get your creative juices flowing and starting a band is a fun diversion from your studies Starting a band may be an organic process you and a couple of friends may have started learning to play at around the same time and perhaps you've had a few impromptu jamming sessions in your bedroom Maybe you're a bit more serious and would like to put some groundwork in such as placing ads sifting through replies and holding auditions to get other musicians on board In either case decide at a very early point just what you want your band to be At this stage you don't really need to have a name but what you will need is some idea of what sound you would like what genre of music you want to play and who you will need on board to achieve this EXCERPT FROM THE BOOK Consider sound proofing the space you find Egg boxes and old carpet are the among the cheapest and best options and they help substantially with reverb meaning you should be able to hear any mistakes as you play something which large echoey spaces tend to disguise Recruiting Band Members So you've found somewhere to practice now do you go about getting other musicians to join your band You may already know one or two who you already practice with and this may be the nucleus of a band However at some point it is more than likely that you are going to have to advertise to get in other like minded musicians This is where you will be need to be honest with yourself and any prospective band members You may be tempted to exaggerate your own musical experience in order to attract some good musicians Don't It is no good hiring someone whose playing is vastly superior to yours as they probably won't stick around Similarly it is no good hiring someone who is less experienced It will be frustrating trying to learn new songs if one member of the band is not up to the same level as you will not progress as quickly as you should Possessing limited skill and experience as a musician is not a detrimental factor when hiring other musicians On the contrary it can be looked on as a positive because you will have more musicians to choose from and if you are all at the same level you will learn and grow together Buy a copy to keep reading
