Low-cost Housing in Barbados Mark R. Watson, Robert B. Potter, 2001 The Barbados Tenancies Programme provides an example of what can take place when the state elects to intervene in low income housing This work offers an empirical study of the plantation tenancies since the upgrading programme began in the 1980s examining different aspects of 150 tenancies HC 370 - Housing Associations and the Right to Buy Great Britain. Parliament. House of Commons. Communities and Local Government Committee, 2016 Following the 2015 General Election the Government announced that it was seeking to extend the Right to Buy to tenants of housing associations This policy alongside others such as the 1 per cent reduction in social rents and a pay to stay model which would charge differential rents according to tenant income was likely to have a significant impact on housing associations We therefore wanted to explore how their work and the services they provide might change and what the impact might be for the wider social housing sector and the provision of affordable homes Shortly after our investigations began a deal to implement the extended Right to Buy on a voluntary basis was reached between the National Housing Federation and the Government We recognise that the voluntary deal is a way of delivering a key policy from the Government's Manifesto whilst maintaining the independence of housing associations However there remains much uncertainty in the wording of the agreement for example regarding whether associations which voted against it are bound by its terms and the extent of the discretion to decline sales The extended Right to Buy is designed to increase home ownership and increase housing supply We support these aspirations and the principle of giving people the opportunity to buy their own home Despite this we feel that there are unresolved issues and remain concerned that the Government's policies could have a detrimental effect on the provision of accessible and affordable housing across all tenures particularly affordable rented We are also concerned that the extended Right to Buy could hinder the provision of specialist and supported housing schemes Maintaining and protecting the provision of affordable housing in rural areas is also an issue that we believe needs to be addressed in order to protect our rural communities The terms of the voluntary agreement allow for portable discounts to be offered in place of certain properties but it remains unclear how this would operate Buying Your Home Lien Bich Luu, Ai-Quang Tonthat, 2021-09-05 Many young people aspire to own their own home but face a myriad of challenges such as high property prices the need to raise a large deposit and difficulties of getting a mortgage The process of buying a property is also stressful fraught with complexity and uncertainty and a mistake can prove very costly This book therefore provides a much needed step by step guide to help those seeking to buy a property for the first time Packed with helpful and practical tips this book gives a complete overview of the house buying process including finance legal and property aspects The authors discuss a wide range of topics including creating the right mindset the pros and cons of home ownership how to choose a suitable property how to save for a deposit how to negotiate for a better price how to get a mortgage the steps in the house buying process how to ensure that mortgage payments can always be met The book is written by experienced property buyers who have bought multiple properties who have worked as a mortgage adviser and financial planner and who understand personal finance It will be essential reading for undergraduate students in the field of accounting and finance and will also appeal to the general public particularly those seeking to buy a property for the first time After reading the book readers will be able to map out a plan to buy their first property with greater confidence and make a better and more informed decision that will bring financial rewards

HL 100 - Building Better Places The Stationery Office,2016 The built environment affects us all The planning design management and maintenance of the built environment has a long term impact upon people and communities It is widely acknowledged that the quality of life prosperity health and wellbeing of an individual is heavily influenced by the place in which they live or work Policy towards the built environment in England is not the sole preserve of any one Government department this both accounts for the diverse range of elements which comprise the built environment and reflects the diverse range of impacts which it has upon people and communities There is an urgent need to co ordinate and reconcile policy across numerous different areas and priorities Recently however one priority has become dominant in debates concerning built environment policy Increasing the overall supply of housing and the speed at which housing is delivered is a central part of the Government s policy agenda When seen in the context of the housing crisis facing many communities across England this is understandable and overall we welcome the Government focus on increasing and speeding up the supply of housing Restrictions on financial freedoms and flexibilities however pose a threat to the ability of local authorities to build houses of their own The private sector throughout the post war period has very rarely achieved the delivery of 200 000 homes a year We do not believe the Government can deliver the stepchange required for housing supply without taking measures to allow local authorities and housing associations each to play their full part in delivering new homes In addition Government initiatives have so far failed to address a further part of the housebuilding problem which is the gap between planning permissions granted and new homes built We recommend measures intended to address this and other barriers to increasing the number of housing completions
