The Nazi looting machine was notoriously efficient during the Second World War In the Netherlands 8 5 million citizens suffered losses estimated at 3 6 billion guilders Approximately one third of these losses were borne by Jews who comprised only 1 6% of the total population In todays terms the German occupiers stripped the Jewish population of assets worth 7 billion Nazi Looting offers a comprehensive history of the Dutch experience and demonstrates how reputable indigenous institutions acted as willing collaborators Beginning with a survey of international law and various definitions of looting the author shows how the Germans systematically robbed Dutch Jewry through a variety of means that gave the outward appearance of honest trading Forced to sell under duress and at unreasonably low prices few dared refuse the German on the doorstep when threatened with prison or incarceration in a camp The plundering was total and systematic In May 1940 a team of highly trained art historians linguists musicologists and literary experts arrived immediately behind the victorious German troops to catalogue the vast collections for Hitler From 1941 Jews were compelled to deposit all their money into a bank called Lippmann Rosenthal Co The name of the bank itself was a cynical ploy since it was taken from a respected Jewish owned Amsterdam bank and presented as a new branch This bank however simply channelled money into the Third Reich with the help of the Amsterdam Stock Exchange insurance brokers and other well established Dutch banks Once the Jews were deported their houses were emptied and the contents used to re furnish bombed out areas of the Reich In common with many other formerly Nazi occupied countries in Europe the Netherlands has been unable to retrieve many of its pre war assets More than fifty years after the wars end 20% of its most important pre war museum exhibits and approximately 80% of the less important works remain untrace Jaarverslag Rijksinstituut voor Oorlogsdocumentatie (Netherlands), 1991
