Social Health Insurance:

Social Health Insurance for Developing Nations R. Paul Shaw, 2007-01-01 Specialist groups have often advised health ministers and other decision makers in developing countries on the use of social health insurance SHI as a way of mobilizing revenue for health reforming health sector performance and providing universal coverage This book reviews the specific design and implementation challenges facing SHI in low and middle income countries and presents case studies on Ghana Kenya Philippines Colombia and Thailand Social Health Insurance Charles Normand, Axel Weber, World Health Organization, International Labour Office, 1994 Social Health Insurance Systems In Western Europe Saltman, Richard, Rico, Ana, Boerma, Wienke, 2004-09-01 This title explores the nature of the pressures social health insurance systems confront to be more efficient more effective and more responsive Social Health Insurance T. Whitaker, 1999 Comprises eight modules which provide guidelines on the design and management of a social insurance scheme Focuses on the needs of countries where social security systems are not yet operational or need to be improved Describes the selection of health care benefits to be provided the accreditation of service providers methods of financing provider payment mechanisms and organizational aspects Includes a module on micro insurance schemes Moving toward Universal Coverage of Social Health Insurance in Vietnam Aparnaa Somanathan, Ajay Tandon, Huong Lan Dao, Kari L. Hurt, Hernan L. Fuenzalida-Puelma, 2014-06-26 Over the past two decades Vietnam has made enormous progress towards achieving universal coverage UC for its population Significant challenges remain however in terms of improving equity with continuing low rates of enrollment Ensuring financial protection also remains an elusive goal The Master Plan for Universal Coverage approved in 2012 by the Prime Minister directly addresses both these deficiencies in coverage The objective of this report is to assess the implementation of Vietnam SHI and provide options for moving towards UC This is a joint assessment with development partners World Health Organization United Nations Children s Fund Unicef and Rockefeller Foundation Expanding breadth of coverage particularly for those hard to reach groups such as the near poor and informal sector would require substantially increasing general revenue subsidies and fully subsidizing the premiums for the near poor High enrollment rates would however have little impact on financial protection and equity if OOP costs remain high Achieving UC will require sustained efforts to improve efficiency in the system and gain better value for money from available budgetary resources without these efforts any further progress towards UC would be financially unsustainable There is considerable scope for improving efficiency in Vietnam Fragmentation in the pooling of funds gives rise to unnecessary costs Inefficiencies in resource allocation and purchasing arrangements include i an overly generous benefits package ii provider payment mechanisms and the mix of incentives facing providers which result in an oversupply of services iii high prices overconsumption and inappropriate use of pharmaceuticals and iv the structure and incentives embedded within the delivery system The organization management and governance of SHI are fragmented and often dysfunctional The present institutional setting for SHI needs to be assessed and changed

EBOOK: Decentralization in Health Care: Strategies and Outcomes Richard Saltman, Ana Rico, Wienke Boerma, 2004-09-16

What is the best way to structure primary care services How can coordination between primary care and other parts of health care systems be improved How should new technologies be integrated into primary care There is considerable agreement among national policy makers across Europe that in principle primary care should be the linchpin of a well designed health care system This agreement however does not carry over into the organizational mechanisms best suited to pursuing or achieving this common objective Across western central and eastern Europe primary care is delivered through a wide range of institutional financial professional and clinical configurations This book is a study of the reforms of primary care in Europe as well as their impacts on the broader co ordination mechanisms within European health care systems It also provides suggestions for effective strategies for future improvement in health care system reform

Primary Care in the Driver s Seat is key reading for students studying health policy health economics public policy and management as well as health managers and policy makers

Research of the Universities of Nijmegen and Maastricht in Nijmegen Netherlands Social Health Insurance World Health Organization. Regional Office for the Western Pacific, World Health Organization. Regional Office for South-East Asia, 2005 Health development in countries of Asia and the Pacific is constantly facing new challenges but financial constraints prevent people from seeking timely health care and completing the treatment regimen Many countries in Asia and the Pacific have introduced cost recovery by charging for publicly provided health services and the share of private financing in total health care spending has significantly increased in the past two decades However such reforms were carried out without adequate measures to protect the poor and private out of pocket financing is an inequitable and inefficient way of funding health services There has thus been growing interest in health insurance not only as a financing mechanism but also as an effective social safety net This publication is the outcome of joint efforts by the WHO Regional Offices for the Western Pacific and South East Asia the Asian Development Bank and health care financing experts in the two regions By the use of case studies it documents regional experiences in health care financing arrangements through prepayment with critical analysis on factors linked to success failures and lessons learnt in various socioeconomic settings While experiences from 12 selected countries have been highlighted the lessons are relevant for all countries in Asia and the Pacific The publication will therefore be useful for policy makers and for international development partners undertaking technical assistance in the field of social security and social health insurance The Theory of Social Health Insurance Peter Zweifel, 2007 The Theory of Social Health Insurance develops the theory of social health insurance also known as public health insurance While a good deal is known about the demand and supply of private insurance the theoretical basis of social health insurance is much more fragile The Theory of Social Health Insurance examines questions including why does social health insurance exist and even dominate private health insurance in most developed countries What are the objectives and constraints of social health insurance managers What is the likely outcome or performance of social health insurance The Theory of Social Health Insurance reviews the conventional theory of demand for insurance and health insurance the supply of health insurance in general and social health insurance in particular the properties of the optimal health insurance contract and whether there are factors limiting the growth of social health insurance Governing Mandatory Health Insurance William D. solidarity the authors compare the systems of health insurance health insurance funds and healthcare insurers in Germany Belgium and the Netherlands Given the similar political economic and social development that these countries have undergone in the past 60 years and the availability of a qualitatively high level of health care one might expect a high degree of similarity between these countries healthcare insurance systems However the dissimilarities are surprising In fact these differences are currently becoming ever more apparent between systems in general and the structure and operation of the health insurance funds and health care insurers in particular The differences include the compulsory nature of insurance the extent of coverage premiums entrepreneurship competition and the degree of private insurance Many of these national singularities can be understood and explained only by considering the historical background of the health insurance systems the insurers and their evolution over the past two centuries This study adopts an institutional and political perspective towards a further understanding of the development of health insurance and of how this ultimately determined the specific nature of the healthcare insurers and funds and the way they currently operate in Germany Belgium and the Netherlands
