Primary Prevention Practices Martin

Bloom,1996-03-26 What are the most effective ways of preventing predictable behavioural problems protecting current states of health and promoting desired behaviours This volume offers step by step procedures on how to conduct over 50 prevention practices including problem solving anticipatory instructions social skills training life long exercises perceived self efficacy assertiveness training cognitive reframing and peer tutoring So that readers can more easily select which preventive measure to apply the author identifies the classes of factors that should be considered in any thorough analysis of a given situation and provides a checklist of the full range of forces acting on particular events Person-Environment Psychology and Mental Health William E. Martin, Jr.,Jody L. Swartz-Kulstad,William E. Martin,2000-03

In recent years mental health professionals who have traditionally focused on the emotional state of the individual have come to realize that problems arise from the unique interactions between particular individuals and environments From necessity they are beginning to look at context no longer can they place the responsibility for mental health on the shoulders of the person alone Most attention has been paid to the impact of educational and work settings but it is clear that all life settings contribute meaningfully to positive psychological adaptation and must be considered in any attempt to understand a person s difficulties This book explores the crucial ramifications of new theory and research in person environment psychology for assessment and intervention All practitioners seeking to deliver effective mental health services to adolescents and adults will learn from it

Caring for You, Caring for Me David H. Haigler,Kathryn B. Mims,Jack A. Nottingham,1998 Caring for persons with chronic illnesses or disabilities is a rewarding endeavor but it often places extreme demands on those providing care Caregivers need both education and support to understand their caregiving roles and to cope with the difficult situations they face All too often there is a chasm between professionals who are part of the formal caregiving system and family members friends and neighbors who provide daily care The Caring for You Caring for Me education and support program is a valuable tool for use in providing caregivers with education and support The program is designed to bring formal professional and informal lay family caregivers together to gain a better understanding of each other s perspectives on what it means to be a caregiver with the hope that in the process both will learn to do it better The program is based on caregiving research and the expertise of frontline caregivers The Leader s Guide contains everything needed to conduct a ten hour education and support program for caregivers informational content layouts for overhead transparencies and suggested group activities The companion Participant s Manual supports the presentation providing a workbook for class activities a suggested reading list and a compendium of national sources of help for caregivers Caring for You Caring for Me was developed by the Rosalynn Carter Institute under the guidance of the West Central Georgia Caregivers Network CARE NET The Rosalynn Carter Institute was established in 1987 Its mission is to understand the process of caregiving and discover new ways to benefit both formal and informal caregivers The Institute supports the premise that caregivers and care receivers can be served most effectively through the collaborative efforts of formal and informal caregivers academicians public and private services and organizations representing caregivers and recipients of care      Smooth Sailing or Stormy Waters? Rena D.

Harold, Lisa G. Colarossi, Lucy R. Mercier, 2020-07-24 Smooth Sailing enhances our understanding of the family's transition through adolescence by examining qualitative data about the experiences of parents and teens across multiple relationships and social contexts This volume follows the same 60 families described in the authors first book Becoming a Family 2000 relating their stories about their transition from childhood to adolescence Collectively the two books provide a unique longitudinal perspective on family development using two distinct data collection formats and time frames Interdisciplinary in nature the book draws on theory and practice from the fields of social work psychology and sociology Smooth Sailing reveals a picture of the transition to adolescence as it is influenced by intrafamily relationships as well as social context factors Initial chapters lay the foundation for the study's methods Proceeding chapters present the participants stories organized by context developmental changes interpersonal relationships education and work Each chapter follows a similar format an overview of past research interview and coding techniques and a presentation of parents and teens qualitative descriptions Chapters also include an analysis of gender and conclude with implications for practice and policy The final chapter in the book summarizes this work and looks ahead to the next developmental period emerging adulthood Intended for researchers in a variety of disciplines such as social work psychology and sociology this volume also serves as a supplementary text for courses on the family and or adolescent development      Encyclopedia of Social Work ,1965

Nanton, Mary V. Alfred, 2009-07-20 Fostering Transformative Learning is about teaching for change It is not an approach to be taken lightly arbitrarily or without much thought Many would argue that it requires intentional action a willingness to take personal risk a genuine concern for the learners betterment and the wherewithal to draw on a variety of methods and techniques that help create a classroom environment that encourages and supports personal growth What makes the work of transformative learning even more difficult is the lack of clear signposts or guidelines that teachers can follow when they try to teach for change There is now a need to return to the classroom and look through the lens of those who have been engaged in the practice of fostering transformative learning Book Jacket Families in Society, 2005

Delivering Human Services Alexis A. Halley, Judy Kopp, Michael J. Austin, 1998 This unique self instructional text involves students in the learning process and helps them develop and apply the skills needed for working with people It presents comprehensive coverage of major practice areas brokering consumer advocacy mobilizing interviewing case management relationship building and assessment Encouraging students to view people in a positive way with the ability to change the fourth edition contains a new chapter on managing the transition to new service delivery systems updated material on clinical methods revised material on policy practice and updated cases that reflect a stronger emphasis on diversity The Encyclopedia of Social Work Terry Mizrahi, Larry Davis, 2008-04-24 This 20e contains 400 articles which represent a thoroughly updated and expanded look at the entire field of social work The 4 volumes cover all aspects of social work from practice interventions social environments social conditions and challenges to social policy and history Co published by OUP and the National Assoc of Social Workers USA Uprooted in Old Age Howard Litwin, 1995-04-18 This first hand empirical study of elderly Soviet Jews who immigrated to Israel during the Great Exodus of 1989 to 1991 demonstrates the double jeopardy of transnational relocation in later life The book traces the depletions that occurred in the elderly immigrants social networks and examines the impact of a range of network factors on their personal well being Given the dearth of systematic field research into the problems and needs of elderly immigrants and of this group in particular gerontologists and sociologists will find this case study invaluable Students teachers policymakers social service providers and other professional practitioners will gain from the findings about elderly immigrants network relationships and from practical suggestions for the planning of effective network interventions on their behalf      Social Work Practice Vimala Pillari,2002 Using the ecological perspective and emphasizing human diversity this generalist social work practice text presents the values knowledge and skills of intervention that are necessary when working with diverse clientele The different areas of study focus systematically on individuals families groups communities and organizations Skills of communication including interviewing and relationship skills are highlighted      Social Work ,1992      Ongoing University of Michigan.
