Social World Of Pupil Assessment Strategic Biographies Through Primary School:

Social World of Pupil Assessment Andrew Pollard, Ann Filer, 2000-06-01 Defining Assessment in the widest possible way ann Filer and Andrew Pollard have produced the most comprehensive ethnographic study of assessment ever attempted Their case studies cover all of the most important questions concerning assessment The findings which are both profound and unsettling have major implications for educational practice and policy particularly on how supposedly objective assessment processes depend on their context and are vulnerable to both bias and distortion In this colorful and reliable work Filer and Pollard have provided the definitive study of assessment in the 5 11 age range

Readings for Reflective Teaching Andrew Pollard, 2002-01-01 This unique book provides the reader with a mini library of over one hundred readings containing both classic and contemporary readings international contributors material drawn from books and journals An essential reference resource in its own right Readings for Reflective Teaching also contains numerous cross references to Andrew Pollards Reflective Teaching

The Social World of Pupil Career Andrew Pollard, 1999-06-17 This text is the second part of a seven year ethnography of individual pupils from the ages of four to eleven in an English primary school It presents a sociological analysis of children coping with the social worlds of home playground and classroom over the seven years of a primary school career The study provides holistic insights into the biographies of four children during their primary school years and the case studies give prominence to the voices and perspectives of parents children and teachers interacting over time The reader is invited to engage personally with these accounts and is guided as the book progresses to an overall analysis of the significance of social relationships and learning processes on the childrens s career trajectories

Social World of Pupil Assessment Ann Filer, Andrew Pollard, 2000 Based upon a six year investigation of the home life classroom and playground life of ten pupils from mainly skilled working class families this study describes how they made their career choices and managed their school identities

International Handbook of Student Experience in Elementary and Secondary School D. Thiessen, Alison Cook-Sather, 2007-06-03 The International Handbook of Student Experience in Elementary and Secondary School brings together in a single volume the groundbreaking work of scholars who have conducted studies of student experiences of school in Afghanistan Australia Canada England Ghana Ireland Pakistan and the United States Drawing extensively on students interpretations of their experiences in school as expressed in their own words chapter authors offer insight into how students conceptualize and approach school understand and address the ongoing social opportunities for and challenges in working with other students and teachers and the multiple ways in which they shape and contribute to school improvement The individual chapters are framed by an opening chapter which provides background on bases of and trends in research on students experiences of school and a final chapter which uses the interpretive framework translation provided to explore how researching students experiences of school challenges those involved to translate their qualitative research methods the terms they evoke to describe and define students experiences of schools and in fact themselves as researchers Analysing Teaching-Learning Interactions in Higher Education Paul Ashwin, 2012-02-23

Whilst current research into teaching and learning offers many insights into the experiences of academics and students in higher education it has two significant shortcomings It does not highlight the dynamic ways in which students and academics impact on each other in teaching learning interactions or the ways in which these interactions are shaped by wider social processes This book offers critical insight into existing perspectives on researching teaching and learning in higher education and argues that alternative perspectives are required in order to account for structure and agency in teaching learning interactions in higher education In considering four alternative perspectives it examines the ways in which teaching learning interactions are shaped by teaching learning environments student and academic identities disciplinary knowledge practices and institutional cultures It concludes by examining the conceptual and methodological implications of these analyses of teaching learning interactions and provides the reader with an invaluable guide to alternative ways of conceptualising and researching teaching and learning in higher education The Social World of Pupil Career Andrew Pollard, Ann Filer, 1999 The Social World of Pupil Career provides holistic insights into the biographies of four children during their primary school years and the case studies give prominence to the voices and perspectives of parents children and teachers

Social World of Pupil Assessment Ann Filer, Andrew Pollard, 2000 Based upon a six year investigation of the home life classroom and playground life of ten pupils from mainly skilled working class families this study describes how they made their career choices and managed their school identities Understanding Assessment and Qualifications in Post-compulsory Education Kathryn Ecclestone, 2003 The structure of Britain's qualifications system is almost impenetrable after so many changes even to professionals This guide clarifies different principles purposes and practices and points to other literature and research that might be useful to professionals who have to make sense of it Books In Print 2004-2005 Ed Bowker Staff, Staff Bowker, Ed, 2004 Rethinking Assessment in Higher Education David Boud, Nancy Falchikov, 2007 This book critically examines assessment what it achieves and argues that assessment should be seen as an act of informing judgement and proposes a way of integrating teaching learning and assessment to prepare students for a lifetime of learning Language, Literature and Education in Multicultural Societies Kenneth W. Harrow, Kizitus Mpoche, 2008 This book presents a vivid overview of linguistic literary and educational issues in a multicultural context from various perspectives These range from large scale surveys to specific analyses on aspects of language literature and education Contributions are very original and based on a common denominator Multiculturalism Despite the numerical dominance of contributions from Cameroon one of the most multilingual countries in the world this book brings together views from specialists in the different domains from several parts of the world Africa Europe and the United States of America These contributions exhibit not theoretical issues that underpin current academic debates in linguistic and literary research but also empirical and interesting data that can further be exploited to other ends Critical views on literature and postcolonialism the fears of language death with the advent of globalisation and the spread of English language the educational significance or influence of the internet the wealth of Cameroon African literature and the education of the Cameroonian African child and theoretical issues in language and literary education are themes handled here in an accessible manner to readers without previous knowledge of language science literature and education What Pupils Say

Andrew Pollard, Pat Triggs, 2000 The American river has a rich literary heritage extending from Twain and Thoreau to the more recent journeys of John Graves and Jonathan Raban Following in this great tradition Franklin Burroughs chronicles a canoe voyage through the Carolinas visiting his ancestral homeland and the people who inhabit the banks of the Waccamaw River His account of this distinctive and rapidly disintegrating backwater reflects on life on and off the river topography and how this landscape echoes in the speech memories and circumstances of the people he encounters Their lives provide a kind of living archaeology and Burroughs's careful descriptions of their voices and habits open a door into history As quiet and powerful as a river itself this is a wise and beautifully written narrative of nature people and place by one of America's finest writers Beginning Teaching, Beginning Learning Janet Moyles, Gillian Robinson, 2002-03 Reviews of the first edition Janet Moyles's carefully and imaginatively edited book will be of great interest to a wide educational community This is more than a handbook for students and their tutors it is a manifest of the dedicated and closely focused professionalism of the University of Leicester team and I am sure that it will still be being read in ten years time by all concerned with primary education Mentoring and Tutoring How can new primary teachers not only survive but enjoy their chosen career What can newly qualified and student teachers do to recognize and address the many complexities of primary teaching What are the issues which continually challenge both new and experienced teachers The second edition of this successful text sets out to explore some of the wider issues surrounding work with children in the 3-11 years age range and considers how these are woven into the broad framework of teaching and teachers own learning Cameos and examples of classroom practice help to illustrate the aspects of teaching what it is to be an effective and competent teacher classroom processes such as planning observation and assessment the variety of ways in which children learn and develop thinking skills through various curriculum areas including ICT equal opportunities and special needs issues in loco parentis responsibilities and reflective approaches to teaching Written in an accessible style the aim throughout is to offer guidance and encouragement in the challenging and complex task of early years and primary teaching Comprehensively revised and updated throughout this second edition produced by colleagues from Anglia Polytechnic University and University of Leicester discusses teaching and learning in the context of recent initiatives such as the Foundation Stage the Literacy Hour the induction year for newly qualified teachers and the growth and development of ICT It will be an essential text for all students and newly qualified primary teachers Subject Guide to Books in Print, 2001 Bibliographic Guide to Education, 2001 lists publications cataloged by Teachers College Columbia University supplemented by The Research Libraries of The New York Publica
