

The background of the cover is a complex, abstract mosaic. It consists of numerous small, irregular tiles in a variety of colors including red, orange, yellow, blue, green, and grey. The tiles are arranged in a way that creates a sense of depth and movement, with some areas appearing more prominent than others. The overall effect is a rich, textured pattern that covers the entire page.

Research Methods for Clinical Social Workers John S. Wodarski,1997 Responding to growing challenges in social work to base clinical practice on empirical evidence John Wodarski has developed this research textbook to illustrate the value of empirical perspectives in social work practice and to facilitate the integration of research and practice Written in an accessible style the text guides the reader through the development and implementation of various types of empirical research designs The volume provides concrete tools for effective intervention and builds problem solving and evaluative components into the intervention process incorporating a much needed progressive and systematic approach to social work education

Applied Social Research Duane R. Monette, Thomas J. Sullivan, Cornell R. DeJong, 1994

Social Work Research and Evaluation Richard M. Grinnell, Yvonne A. Unrau, 2005 This book is the longest standing and most widely adopted text in the field of social work research and evaluation Since the first edition in 1981 it has been designed to provide beginning social work students the basic methodological foundation they need in order to successfully complete more advanced research courses that focus on single system designs or program evaluations Its content is explained in extraordinarily clear everyday language which is then illustrated with social work examples that social work students not only can understand but appreciate as well Many of the examples concern women and minorities and special emphasis is given to the application of research methods to the study of these groups Without a doubt the major strength of this book is that it is written by social workers for social work students The editors have once again secured an excellent and diverse group of social work research educators The 31 contributors know firsthand from their own extensive teaching and practice experiences what social work students need to know in relation to research They have subjected themselves to a discipline totally uncommon in compendia that is writing in terms of what is most needed for an integrated basic research methods book rather than writing in line with their own predilections

Research Methods in Criminal Justice and Criminology Frank E. Hagan, 1997 Blends sound pedagogy in research methods instruction with a range of classic and contemporary research examples from criminology and criminal justice Students learn how to carry out research and also become familiar with the research that currently is available

Renegade Kids, Suburban Outlaws Wayne S. Wooden, Randy Blazak, 2001 Topics covered include exploring boundary between deviance and criminality in the lives of young people who are deeply involved in the youth culture show how youth culture is not a set of categories so much as it is a dynamic and creative response to the confusions of growing up in modern society

Political Science Research Laurence F. Jones, Edward C. Olson, 1996 This text introduces students to the discipline of political science and the research process by teaching them how to conduct basic political research without overwhelming them with statistical theorizing and calculation Political Science Research has three objectives First it gives students the scope of the discipline by acquainting them with what political scientists do and study Second it familiarizes readers with the methods that political scientists use to examine pertinent questions Third the text guides readers through each stage of the research process topic selection literature review hypothesis formulation data collection input and analysis and the writing of the final report
