The Orang-utans Gisela Kaplan, Lesley Joy Rogers, 1999 A marvellous insight into the lives of the orang utans      The Orangutans Gisela Kaplan, Lesley J. Rogers, 2000-06-21 An intimate look at the most humanlike primates on the face of the Earth      Among the Orangutans Evelyn Gallardo, 1993-03-01 A student of the renowned paleontologist Dr Louis B Leakey and a colleague of both Dian Fossey and Jane Goodall Birute Galdikas is the world's foremost authority on the life and behavior of the orangutan For more than twenty years she has lived in the jungles of Borneo devoting her life to studying and preserving this endangered animal as well as its disappearing rain forest habitat The informative text describes both the obstacles and adventures of Dr Galdikas's explorations as well as her startling discoveries and the full color photographs brilliantly capture her life among the orangutans Birute Galdikas is an impressive role model and her inspiring story serves as a reminder that the future of our fragile world as well as our understanding of it lies in the dreams and determination of today's young naturalists      Orangutans and Their Battle for Survival Leif Cocks, 2002 With the arrival of European explorers in Southeast Asia around 300 years ago the orangutan the world's second largest ape and one of our closest biological relatives began a battle for survival As the rainforest was cleared and burnt and the orangutans were poached and sold remnant populations have dwindled to alarmingly small numbers This is the amazing story of how a small Australian zoo offers hope for the orangutans through its very successful captive breeding program The story is told through the eyes and heart of Leif Cocks whose personal encounters with the orangutans in his care have enabled him to provide fascinating insights into their unique intelligence and individual personalities The photographs capture some wonderful moments in the orangutan enclosures at the zoo      Reflections of Eden Birute M.F. Galdikas, 1995 Record of over twenty years study of orangutans by one of the world's leading primatologists      The Animals' Agenda, 1995      Becoming a Tiger Susan McCarthy, 2009-03-17 From the co author of the New York Times bestseller When Elephants Weep comes a book that uses true stories backed by scientific research to explore the way young animals discover their worlds and learn how to survive How does a baby animal figure out how to get around in the world How much of what animals know is instinctive and how much must they learn In Becoming a Tiger bestselling author Susan McCarthy addresses these intriguing matters presenting fascinating and funny examples of animal behaviour in the laboratory and in the wild McCarthy shows us how baby animals transform themselves from clueless kittens clumsy cubs or scrawny chicks into efficient predators successful foragers or deft nest builders From geese to mice dolphins to orang utans bats to of course tigers McCarthy's warm amusing and insightful examinations of animal life and developments provides a surprising window into the mental worlds of our fine fuzzy furred finned and feathered friends oReaders will be fascinated by a close look at animal intelligence learning and family life      Science John Michels, 1897      The Animal's Agenda, 1995      Second (-) annual report Liverpool council, libr, mus. and arts comm, 1895      International Journal of Primatology, 1988 Include abstracts      World Book's Science & Nature

Rogers,2000-01-01 Orangutans OT are among our closest relatives and behave remarkably like us Here two experts explore these fascinating similarities and paint a compassionate picture of these intelligent primates They describe how OT learn from each other mother their young and communicate offering fresh insight into OTs emotions The book is also a moving treatise describing the perilous future of these magnificent forest dwellers It reveals the devastating effects on the habitat of OT who live only on the islands of Sumatra and Borneo of recent fires droughts and widespread floods and the issue of saving the rainforests a battleground where biologists and environmentalists fight industry and agriculture to preserve a sensitive ecosystem B W photos      New Age Journal ,1995
