The Cardiff Volume Three:

An Inventory of the Ancient Monuments in Glamorgan: Volume III: Medieval secular monuments. The early castles - from the Norman Conquest to 1217 Royal Commission on the Ancient and Historical Monuments of Wales, 1991

Fifty seven castles founded in Glamorgan by 1217 are here described. These include mottes, castle ringworks and presumed Welsh earthworks, all without masonry, as well as sixteen masonry castles ranging from well known sites at Cardiff, Coity and Ogmore to the Welsh stone castle now identified at Plas Baglan. Later defensive monuments will be described in part 1b.

Glamorgan castles occur in unrivalled density, their study enriched by an exceptional range of works on local history and records. County borders embrace the lordships of Gower and Glamorgan. Most castles lie in the fertile lowlands where Norman rule was imposed. Welsh independence endured in the uplands until the mid 13th century conquests of the Clare lords. When they inherited Glamorgan in 1217, Norman rule had survived unbroken in the lowlands from the late 11th century, if not in Gower. Profusely illustrated descriptions incorporate comprehensive historical accounts. The Introductory Survey and Sectional Preambles discuss the evidence illustrated by maps and diagrams. Significant conclusions emerge. William the Conqueror founded Cardiff in 1081. Glacial drift provides a determinant for the segregation of mottes and castle ringworks. Roman roads, forts and river crossings influenced Norman settlement. Early Masonry Castles rare in Wales were numerous in Glamorgan. Castles of the lords of Glamorgan are of particular interest, especially Newcastle, which might be attributed to Henry II. These lords included King John (1189-1216) and leading magnates of the realm: Rufus's favourite Robert Fitzhamon (1093-1107), Robert, earl of Gloucester, base son of Henry I (d. 1135-47) and later the great Clare earls (1217-1314) and Edward II's favourite Hugh Despenser (1317-26). Royal Commission on the Ancient and Historical Monuments in Wales, 2000

Forty three castles and fortified sites here described were founded or given their most significant fabric after 1217 They include tower houses strong houses possible castles and twenty masonry castles ranging from the great Clare works at Caerphilly and Morlais to the small modestly fortified sites at Barry and Weobley and the exceptional fortified priory at Ewenny The density and variety of the medieval fortifications in Glamorgan are unrivalled and their study is enriched by an exceptional range of works on the history and records of a historic county formed by merging the lordships of Glamorgan and Gower Part 1a described the early castles and traced their role in the Norman conquest and settlement of the fertile southern lowlands down to 1217 when the Clares inherited Glamorgan In that year the Welsh had expelled the English from Gower and remained unconquered in the Glamorgan uplands Gower was soon lost again and under two redoubtable Clare lords the Glamorgan uplands were appropriated in the mid 13th century and secured in a notable programme of castle works The castle building of Earl Richard de Clare 1243-62 and his son Gilbert the Red Earl 1263-95 as they achieved this second conquest of Glamorgan foreshadowed the later campaigns of Edward I against Gwynedd At Caerphilly above all Earl Gilbert's castle deserves comparison with the great Edwardian works it introduced defensive features later to be adopted by King Edward's Savoyard master masons Gower sites considered include the impressive masonry castles at Oystermouth and Penrice A notable ornately arcaded domestic range at Swansea is the only surviving vestige of the chief castle of Gower which is tentatively described from a variety of records AH the illustrated descriptions incorporate detailed historical accounts The introductory survey outlines the later descent of Glamorgan and Gower to the end of the 15th century and along with the sectional preambles it provides general discussion of the sites
