emerging field of biodesign this book explores the use of living and biofabricated materials in interactive artefacts As future products become increasingly interactive and complex careful consideration of their environmental and ethical impacts is more important than ever While the extraction production and disposal of materials such as plastics and metals raises serious concerns biological systems based on living materials offer a more promising path towards regenerative design The book introduces the concept of Designed Interactive Living Systems DILS a new design paradigm in which living materials actively participate in interactions facilitating a transition from human centered to multispecies and more than human perspectives It begins with an overview of the life cycle impacts of interactive products covering critical phases such as raw materials manufacturing use waste and the environmental health and social impacts of materials A wide range of illustrated case studies present solutions to these challenges showcasing organic electronics living technologies and living interactive products alongside analyses of existing prototypes and investigations Finally the book offers a series of design maps to guide future DILS developments covering topics such as designing with microorganisms human non human interaction and the role of biolabs as hybrid spaces for experimentation Through the presentation of original research and diverse case studies the book inspires students and designers alike to expand their knowledge and practice It emphasizes the urgent need to transition from traditional design to biodesign and demonstrates how designers can and must take on this role to help shape regenerative symbiotic futures

Germes Gone Wild Kenneth King,2011-12-15 A shocking expos of the reckless proliferation of bio weapon research and the threat this poses to everyday Americans Battling a new generation of corporate giants and uncovering threats right in our own backyard Kenneth King s Germes Gone Wild reveals the massive expansion of America s bio defense research labs and the culture of deception surrounding hundreds of facilities that have opened since 9 11 King experienced the menace of bio defense research firsthand when local government and business leaders tried to lure a new facility to his hometown in Kentucky Researching the safety claims he not only found many of them to be completely false but was also horrified by the lack of oversight and the recklessness with which these labs genetically modified pathogens like smallpox Ebola and influenza without a care for what happened to the public if there was ever a leak And yet the greed that drove the development of these labs has effectively counteracted any cautionary checks by the government and universities All have been seduced by the economic gains and corporate stipends that come with compliance and turning a blind eye But now the reality of these labs and the germs they manipulate will finally be brought to light as King examines the controversies surrounding plants from Maryland to Boston and Utah to the Department of Homeland Security s dubious National Bio and Agro Facility NBAF project and the precautions or lack thereof being taken to protect us all from a deadly pandemic
