Cluff once again reaches back in time to tell stories here of thirty two boys and men and their journey to manhood While each story is unique Cluff says that the common theme in all is the uncertainty of the journey once it has begun The outcome can never be foreseen One young boy's journey ends almost before it begins another's at the doorstep to manhood while another man's journey has gone on for centuries In the telling of these stories Cluff creates a new awareness of the long and unbroken chain that links all of us living today with the boys and men who overcame the challenges of life's journey in the past Then as now the journeys are about courage heroism tragedy defeat setbacks and opportunity There is something here for everyone in these stories Cluff says but these stories will have special meaning for young men who are now on their own unique journeys to becoming a man Intercultural Education and Literacy Sheila Aikman, 1999-03-15 Indigenous peoples around the world are calling for control over their education in order to reaffirm their identities and defend their rights In Latin America the indigenous peoples' national governments and international organisations have identified intercultural education as a means of contributing to this process The book investigates education for and by indigenous peoples and examines the relationship between theoretical and methodological developments and formal practice An ethnographic study of the Arakmbut people of the Peruvian Amazon provides a detailed example of the social cultural and educational change indigenous peoples are experiencing an insight into Arakmbut oral learning and teaching practices as well as a review of their conceptualisations of knowledge pedagogy and evaluation The models of intercultural education being promoted by Latin American governments are nevertheless biliterate and school based The book analyses indigenous and non indigenous models based on different conceptualisations of culture and curriculum in the context of the Arakmbut search for an education which respects their dynamic oral cultural traditions and identity provides them with a qualitatively relevant education about the wider society and addresses the intercultural lives they lead In the Footsteps of the Traveller Chris M.
