The Building Program Of Herod The Great:

The Building Program of Herod the Great Duane W. Roller, 1998 Herod the Great King of Judaea from 444 B C is known as one of the world's great villains. This notoriety has overshadowed his actual achievements particularly his role as a client king of Rome during Augustus's reign as emperor. An essential aspect of Herod's responsibilities as king of Judaea was his role as a builder. Remarkably innovative he created an astonishing record of architectural achievement not only in Judaea but also throughout Greece and the Roman east. Duane W. Roller systematically presents and discusses all the building projects known to have been initiated by Herod and locates this material in a broad historical and cultural context. Bringing together previously inaccessible material Roller enriches our understanding of the enigmatic Herod and provides new insights into Roman architecture. Herod was instrumental in the diffusion of the Augustan architectural revolution into the provinces and was the first to build outside Italy such Italian architectural forms as the basilica amphitheater villa and Italian temple. Herod's legacy provided a groundwork for the architectural Romanization of the east influencing the construction of the great temple complexes and palaces so familiar from later Roman architecture. Herod like Augustus himself was not only interested in architecture but also in diplomatic and financial contacts among cities of the region. In addition to providing a repertorium of the building projects this study is also an exploration of international relations in the eastern Mediterranean at the beginning of the Roman imperial period.

The Building Program of Herod the Great Duane W. Roller, 1998-02-20 Herod King of Judea from 44 to 4 BC was a major figure in the politics of the Roman east during the emperor Augustus's ascension to power.

Architecture of Herod, the Great Builder Ehud Netzer, 2008-10 A leading Israeli archaeologist surveys the architecture and urban design of Herod the Great one of the most famous builders of the biblical world.

Herod's Judaea Samuel Rocca, 2015-03-30 Samuel Rocca born in 1968 earned his PhD in 2006. The Construct of Identity in Hellenistic Judaism Erich S. Gruen, 2016-09-12 This book collects twenty two previously published essays and one new one by Erich S. Gruen who has written extensively on the literature and history of early Judaism and the experience of the Jews in the Greco-Roman world. His many articles on this subject have however appeared mostly in conference volumes and Festschriften and have therefore not had wide circulation. By putting them together in a single work this will bring the essays to the attention of a much broader scholarly readership and make them more readily available to students in the fields of ancient history and early Judaism. The pieces are quite varied but develop a number of connected and related themes. Jewish identity in the pagan world the literary representations by Jews and pagans of one another the interconnections of Hellenism and Judaism and the Jewish experience under Hellenistic monarchies and the Roman empire.

Divine Honours for the Caesars Bruce W. Winter, 2015-10-21 Though the first century AD saw the striking rise and expansion of Christianity throughout the vast Roman Empire ancient historians have shown that an even stronger imperial cult spread far more rapidly at the same time How did the early Jesus followers cope with the all pervasive culture of emperor worship This authoritative study by Bruce Winter explores the varied responses of first century Christians to imperial requirements to render divine honours to the Caesars Winter first examines the significant primary evidence of emperor worship particularly analysing numerous inscriptions in public places and temples that attributed divine titles to the emperors and he then looks at specific New Testament evidence in light of his findings the Biblical World LaMoine F. DeVries, 1997 This text is designed to introduce students of the Bible to the archaeology geography and history of many of the important sites of the Old and New Testament worlds. Many of these sites were centers for trade religion defense culture industry and government. DeVries details the development of significant sites from villages and towns to cities based on how the site could meet the essential needs of the people. The availability of water or arable land proximity to trade routes and easily defensible terrain were prime factors in determining a city's prominence. This study concentrates on the cities in Mesopotamia, Aram, Syria and Phoenicia, Anatolia, Egypt and Palestine during the Old Testament period and Palestine and the provinces of the Roman world during the New Testament period. Special attention is given to the geographical setting of the city, the history of its development, its relevance to the Bible, its distinguishing features and any significant archaeological discoveries made at the site.
