The Lanes Of Limerick:

Angela's Ashes Frank McCourt, 1998-12-17 A Pulitzer Prize winning 1 New York Times bestseller Angela's Ashes is Frank McCourt's masterful memoir of his childhood in Ireland now with a new introduction by Patrick Radden Keefe. When I look back on my childhood I wonder how I managed to survive at all. It was of course a miserable childhood the happy childhood is hardly worth your while. Worse than the ordinary miserable childhood is the miserable Irish childhood and worse yet is the miserable Irish Catholic childhood. So begins the luminous memoir of Frank McCourt born in Depression era Brooklyn to recent Irish immigrants and raised in the slums of Limerick Ireland. Frank's mother Angela has no money to feed the children since Frank's father Malachy rarely works and when he does he drinks his wages. Yet Malachy exasperating irresponsible and beguiling does nurture in Frank an appetite for the one thing he can provide a story. Frank lives for his father's tales of Cuchulain who saved Ireland and of the Angel on the Seventh Step who brings his mother babies. Perhaps it is this story that accounts for Frank's survival. Wearing rags for diapers begging a pig's head for Christmas dinner and gathering coal from the roadside to light a fire. Frank endures poverty near starvation and the casual cruelty of relatives and neighbors yet lives to tell his tale with eloquence exuberance and remarkable forgiveness. Angela's Ashes imbued on every page with Frank McCourt's astounding humor and compassion is a glorious book that bears all the marks of a classic.

The lanes of Limerick John Williams, 1999     Love of the World John McGahern, 2013-10-03 An enlightening collection of essays reviews and speeches by one of the greatest writers of our era Hilary Mantel and the Irish novelist everyone should read. Colm Tóibín Wise and compelling Elegiac and graceful David Mitchell I have admired even loved John McGahern's work since his first novel Melvyn Bragg McGahern did not spread himself thinly as a writer. Nearly all of his creative energy went into what was central for him the great novels and stories that are now part of the canon of Irish and world literature. Yet he spoke out when he felt he had something worth saying and his non fiction writings are of great interest to anyone who loves his work and to all those interested in the recent history of Ireland. This book brings together all of McGahern's surviving essays reviews and speeches. In them his canon of great writers Tolstoy Chekhov James Proust and Joyce is cited many times with deep and subtle appreciation. His discussions of Irish writers who influenced him are generous and brilliant among them Michael McLaverty Ernie O Malley and Forrest Reid. His interventions on issues he felt strongly about sectarianism women's rights the power of the church in Ireland are lucid and far sighted.

This book documents their experience in Limerick city between the 1920s and 1960s exploring the connections between that experience and the wider culture of an expanding and modernising urban environment. Síle de Cleir discusses topics including ritual activities in many contexts the church the home the school the neighbourhood and the workplace The supernatural belief underpinning these activities is also important along with creative forms of resistance to the high levels of social control exercised by the clergy in this environment De Cleir uses a combination of in depth interviews and historical ethnographic sources to reconstruct the day to day religious experience of Limerick city people during the period studied This material is enriched by ideas drawn from anthropological studies of religion while perspectives from both history and ethnology also help to contextualise the discussion With its unique focus on everyday experience and combination of a traditional worldview with the modernising city of Limerick all set against the backdrop of a newly independent Ireland Popular Catholicism in 20th century Ireland presents a fascinating new perspective on 20th century Irish social and religious history Ismay's Children May Laffan, 1887
