The Lady's Book ,1832      The Woman in the Muslin Mask Daphne Grace,2004-02-20 Western feminists have in the past singled out the veiling of women as a potent symbol of women s oppression under Islam Daphne Grace explores the far more complex and contested role of veiling over the last 120 years Looking at the ways in which the veil is used in literature and its representations in writing from the East and the West she shows how veiling has come to stand for both oppression and resistance Grace asks why at the start of the new millennium veiling seems more popular than ever and explores what veiling means for the women themselves Chapters are arranged geographically and chronologically beginning with the imperial gaze of Victorian England moving to the Arab Islamic world of the Middle East and the Maghreb and finally to India in the process exploring the nationalist religious political and cultural meanings of the veil in its many manifestations then and now      The Woman Who Pretended to Be Who She Was Wendy Doniger,2005 Many cultures have myths about self imitation stories about people who pretend to be someone else pretending to be them in effect masquerading as themselves This great theme in literature and in life tells us that people put on masks to discover who they really are under the masks they usually wear so that the mask reveals rather than conceals the self beneath the self In this book noted scholar of Hinduism and mythology Wendy Doniger offers a cross cultural exploration of the theme of self impersonation whose widespread occurrence argues for both its literary power and its human value The stories she considers range from ancient Indian literature through medieval European courtly literature and Shakespeare to Hollywood and Bollywood They illuminate a basic human way of negotiating reality illusion identity and authenticity not to mention memory amnesia and the process of aging Many of them involve marriage and adultery for tales of sexual betrayal cut to the heart of the crisis of identity These stories are extreme examples of what we common folk do unconsciously every day Few of us actually put on masks that replicate our faces but it is not uncommon for us to become travesties of ourselves particularly as we age and change We often slip carelessly across the permeable boundary between the un self conscious self indulgence of our most idiosyncratic mannerisms and the conscious attempt to give the people who know us personally or publicly the version of ourselves that they expect Myths of self imitation open up for us the possibility of multiple selves and the infinite regress of self discovery Drawing on a dizzying array of tales some fact some fiction The Woman Who Pretended to Be Who She Was is a fascinating and learned trip through centuries of culture guided by a scholar of incomparable wit and erudition      Race, Sex, and Gender in Contemporary Women's Theatre Mary F Brewer,1999-01-01 Focusing on dramatic works by contemporary British and American playwrights in conjunction with feminist political and theoretical texts this book discusses feminist constructions of the category Woman      The Ladies' Home Journal Louisa Knapp,Edward William Bok,1895      The Gentleman's Magazine ,1899      The Social Organization and the Secret Societies of the Kwakiutl Indians Franz Boas,George Hunt,1897      Romance, illustrated, a complete weekly novelette ,1897      Cyclopaedia of English
