Complete Novels Anthony Trollope, 2023-12-17 Anthony Trollope's Complete Novels showcases a remarkable tapestry of Victorian society woven with astute social commentary, intricate characterizations, and engaging narratives. Spanning a career marked by prolific output, Trollope's novels explore themes of ambition, class, and morality, often within the framework of the emerging modern world. His distinctive narrative voice, distinguished by its satirical edge and keen psychological insight, invites readers into the lives of his multifaceted characters, illuminating the complexities of their desires and dilemmas against a backdrop of the evolving English landscape. Trollope, a member of the upper middle class born in 1815, drew upon his experiences in a variety of professions, including the Post Office, parliamentary life, and travel, for inspiration within his works. His candid portrayals of the human condition reflect both personal experiences and keen observations of the societal shifts during the Victorian era. Notably, his use of serialized storytelling not only shaped his narrative technique but also reflected the demands and expectations of an ever-growing readership. For readers seeking a comprehensive understanding of Victorian literature and society, Complete Novels offers an invaluable resource. Trollope's incisive critiques and relatable characters resonate across time, making this collection essential for both scholars and new readers alike who wish to grasp the intricate interplay of social forces at work during his time.

Last Lorry to Mbordo John C. Kennedy, 2003 Is it possible that a nation's ability to make peace is more important than its ability to make war? Will we reach a point in the history of humanity when survival depends on the skills of peace making and not war? Is it possible in some far future time we will come to understand that what really mattered in the history of a nation's life was not its ability to make war but its ability to make peace? We are just starting on this process of learning how to make peace. In war, outcomes are seldom predictable and true consequences are known if ever only years afterwards. The outcomes of our tentative efforts to make peace seem even less predictable. No nation can match the United States in good intentions. But results are all too often the opposite of what we intended. This novel is about living and working in West Africa. It is set in the country of Sakra. It is not a sociological tract nor is it fantasy. The protagonists are fictional but the situations in which they find themselves are similar to those that might be encountered by volunteer teachers in any one of the new nations of West Africa. The story line revolves about three dominant themes that correspond roughly to the early, middle, and latter chapters of the book. The first of these themes is the manner in which outsiders adjust to and develop a sense of their role in a foreign culture. Alice, a lady of 62, Peace Corps volunteer and retired from the Washington D.C. public schools, is the focus of the first part of the novel. She is assigned to teach Mathematics at the University College of Mbordo. Her struggle to adjust, survive, and learn to enjoy living in West Africa is a study in strength and perseverance. Other protagonists are introduced at first only as incidental to Alice's often traumatic journey from alienation to a level of mutual human acceptance. In the middle chapters, the story line shifts away from Alice's problems to the second major theme of interaction, not only between foreigners and Sakraians but also among the ethnic groups of the nation of Sakra itself The problems of life in Sakra for Africans stand out in stark contrast to the problems that Alice and other expatriates have in adjusting to life in West Africa Civil strife in Sakra intensifies this contrast Questions of adjustment become a good deal less significant when survival itself is in question The dominant theme of the final chapters is the manner in which events beyond the control of the protagonists lead to personal and public crisis that place them in situations that become tests of character and belief Readers Comments A gripping must read book for anyone contemplating life in a different culture A true eye opener which helps us to examine our own ideas The Last Lorry takes us for a non stop ride through another world Joanne Marti Information Technology Manager Engrossing An engaging adventure and examination of culture history and the complexity of personal motivation as seen through the eyes of a fellow Mathematics teacher A surprising look at where our best intentions can lead us Marjorie M Barreto Mathematics Instructor In Last Lorry to Mbordo John Kennedy takes us to West Africa in a meeting of two cultures and two worlds In an intense and entertaining novel the author portrays the work done by dedicated volunteers who try to bridge the gap between different cultures Full of details this novel shows the best and worst of our people across cultural ethnic and political worlds The reader feels transported to the town of Mbordo in the West African nation of Sakra Dr Norman Maldonado Reckless and Other Plays Craig Lucas,2014-10-01 This volume combines some of Craig Lucas best known work including Reckless a bittersweet fable for our time Frank Rich The New York Times and Blue Window the clarity of a Mozart quintet And it is faultlessly spun Dan Sullivan The Los Angeles Times with his newest play Stranger The three plays continue the author s exploration of the nature of relationships in an ever increasingly distant society Craig Lucas is the author of Prelude to a Kiss both a success on Broadway and as a motion picture The Dying Gaul God s Heart Missing Persons and Longtime Companion He is currently at work on numerous projects for theatre and film Also available by Craig Lucas What I Meant Was New Plays and Selected One Acts PB 17 95 1 55936 159 X USA Prelude to a Kiss and Other Plays PB 16 95 1 55936 193 X USA All the Year Round,1894 A Pictorial History of Political Events Connected with South Africa, 1899-1900 Sir Francis Carruthers Gould,1900
