Thatcher For Beginners:

Searching for Hope Matthew Tully,2012-02-24 A gritty wonderfully honest investigation of life in an urban American high school in the 21st Century Jay Mathews Washington Post education columnist Searching for Hope is a gripping account of life in a once great high school in a rough Indianapolis neighborhood Granted unfiltered access to Manual High throughout an entire school year award winning journalist Matthew Tully tells the complex story of the everyday drama failures and triumphs in one of the nation's many troubled urban public high schools He walks readers into classrooms offices and hallways painting a vivid picture of the profound academic problems deep frustrations and apathy that absorb and sometimes consume students teachers and administrators Yet this intimate view also reveals the hopes dreams and untapped talents of some amazing individuals Providing insights into the challenges confronting those who seek to improve the quality of America's schools Tully argues that school leaders and policy makers must rally communities to heartfelt engagement with their schools if the crippling social and economic threats to cities such as Indianapolis are to be averted While the book offers no unfamiliar insight into the plight of urban schools it does give a powerful ultimately genuine voice to the complicated imperfect individuals whose victories and hopes are often unreported Publishers Weekly This keen observation of teens at a troubled high school makes for fascinating reading Library Journal

Waterhole Kurt Adkins,2011-09-20 In 1878 Dodge City Kansas is a dangerous place to live When six year old Cole Herbert wakes one morning to find his mother Katherine missing and his father Clint out riding posse with Wyatt Earp and Bat Masterson he realizes just how dangerous it is Clint and Cole embark on a mission to find Katherine but after an unsuccessful eight month search they find their way to the Oklahoma Territory where they plan to begin a new more secure life As years pass father and son adjust to life on a small ranch But when an old prospector knocks on their door and informs them that Katherine may have been spotted alive in the Arizona Territory they revive their search and head to Waterhole the small gold mining town where Katherine may be located Waterhole Arizona is home to Sal Gregorio the ruthless town leader who is not willing to share any of his information or his town with the Herberts When Sal interferes with their attempt to leave town after realizing that he poses a definite threat to their lives Clint and Cole must devise a plan to get everyone in their partyincluding a wounded man a trusted friend a drug addict a stranger and a pre adolescent boyout of town alive

Keeping a Sharp Eye Peter Vale,2012-09 International relations are what a government does when nobody's looking While this may well once have been true the conduct of international relations in South Africa and elsewhere has come under increasing scrutiny by the public This is partially the result of specialist expertise around the formal study of international relations and the making of foreign policy enhanced by the development of International Relations as a separate academic field Like the growth of institutes of international affairs or the Council on Foreign Relations in the case of America the study of international relations commenced at the end of the First World War 1914 18 with the establishment at the University of Wales Aberystwyth of the first academic chair in International Relations It was called for Woodrow Wilson America's twenty eighth president and funded by Welsh businessman and pacifist David Davis In South Africa the study of international relations commenced with the establishment of the South African Institute of International Affairs SAIIA which met for the first time in the Senate Chamber of the University of Cape Town on 12 May 1934 Until then International Relations had been taught in various guises within History Law Economics and Politics courses but it lacked a firm institutional base In South Africa International Relations was first taught as a separate academic discipline at the University of the Witwatersrand in 1963 although a professorship called for Jan Smuts was first filled in 1961 Long before this institutional setting however a more subversive and certainly more spicy variety of international relations understanding and critique was at work this was of course the sharp eye on foreign policy and international relations drawn in jest and sometimes in anger by cartoonists Their interest in international relations predates the emergence of the powerful critical perspectives that have changed and almost redirected the field since the ending of the Cold War This book is about how these other experts have looked at and commented on South Africa's relations with the world over the past century It examines their interpretations of unfolding events and considers how these commentators and their work interacted with the more formal understandings of foreign policy and international relations that came to pass long after cartoons first appeared A century of South Africa's engagement with the world is understandably a long and complex story Cartoons on the country were done years before the 1910 Act of Union as some well known cartoons of the Anglo Boer War suggest However by confining my choices to a hundred years of the South African state I have chosen firm bookends for the collection The choice of cartoons itself requires further clarification There is a rather worrying recent notion in South Africa that nothing that happened in the country before the historic election of 1994 matters In April 2009 at a conference I heard an academic colleague say that what happened in the 1930s was illegitimate and of no real relevance to the present This lack of interest in history is both short sighted and intellectually lazy South Africa's international relations today are determined as much by the cartoons drawn by Boonzaier in 1910 as they are by the cartoons drawn by Zapiro in 2010 I choose these two names not only because they conveniently cover almost the full range of the alphabet but because they run from the founding of the South African state in 1910 to the present Their names signal something else too I have only chosen drawings by cartoonists who worked in South Africa As will be clear many cartoonists were not South African born but brought the cartoonist's trade with them to this country As such they brought interpretations and understandings of the world that helped to shape South Africa's perspectives on international relations
