Children of all ages are celebrating Children's Day in a park. A boy in a blue shirt is swinging on a swing set, while a girl in a white shirt and blue pants is running towards him. Other children are playing in the background, and a woman is standing nearby watching them. The scene is set in a lush green park with trees and bushes.

Springboards For Todays Children:

Springboards to Inquiry Paige Jaeger, Mary Boyd Ratzer, 2019-07-23 This collection of ideas for lessons provides school librarians with inspiration for meeting the tsunami of new standards dictating change for today's next generation learners. Today's school librarian has less and less time to prepare for instruction. This book delivers lesson plans for the librarian to implement immediately as is or with a little adaptation. Using the new AASL standards and an Information Literacy scope and sequence carefully crafted for K-6 students, the authors package lessons that are both engaging and challenging. This book inspires librarians to go beyond their usual role in literacy promotion and instruction only and moves to preparing students to be inquiry learners by embracing inquiry-based learning. Lessons include the Essential Question, begin with the end in mind, pre and post assessment ideas, technology integration ideas, where applicable, reading and research ideas, and collaboration ideas when applicable. AASL Standards and others are noted via an integrated standards checklist while new educational research demonstrates that standards can be met via engaging, collaborative, and interesting lessons modeled throughout the text.

The Forum participants reaffirmed the importance of housing to the vitality and stability of our nation's cities and agreed that housing is intricately linked to national priorities such as education, public safety, and healthcare. There was a call for a comprehensive national housing policy that addresses the variety of housing challenges in our urban communities, including homeownership, rental housing, public housing, special needs housing, and homelessness issues.
