Italian Film in the Light of Neorealism Millicent Joy Marcus, 1986 The movement known as neorealism lasted seven years generated only twenty one films failed at the box office and fell short of its didactic and aesthetic aspirations Yet it exerted such a profound influence on Italian cinema that all the best postwar directors had to come to terms with it whether in seeming imitation the early Olmi in commercial exploitation the middle Comencini or in ostensible rejection the recent Taviani Despite the reactionary pressures of the marketplace and the highly personalized visions of Fellini Antonioni And Visconti Italian cinema has maintained its moral commitment to use the medium in socially responsible ways if not to change the world as the first neorealists hoped then at least to move filmgoers to face the pressing economic political and human problems in their midst From Rossellini's Open City 1945 to the Taviani brothers Night of the Shooting Stars 1982 The author does close readings of seventeen films that tell the story of neorealism's evolving influence on Italian postwar cinematic expression Other films discussed are De Sica's Bicycle Thief and Umberto D De Santis's Bitter Rice Comencini's Bread Love and Fantasy Fellini's La strada Visconti's Senso Antonioni's Red Desert Olmi's Il Posto Germi's Seduced and Abandoned Pasolini's Teorema Petri's Investigation of a Citizen above Suspicion Bertolucci's The Conformist Rosi's Christ Stopped at Eboli and Wertmuller's Love and Anarchy Scola's We All Loved Each Other So Much provides the occasion for the author's own retrospective consideration of how Italian cinema has fulfilled or disappointed the promise of neorealism

Springtime in Italy David Overbey, 1979 Analyses of Italian neo realist cinema and its influence on international film making includes a collection of articles and speeches by the film makers themselves including De Sica Rossellini and Visconti

Italian Neorealism Mark Shiel, 2006 Italian Neorealism Rebuilding the Cinematic City is a valuable introduction to one of the most influential of film movements Exploring the roots and causes of neorealism particularly the effects of the Second World War as well as its politics and style Mark Shiel examines the portrayal of the city and the legacy left by filmmakers such as Rossellini De Sica and Visconti Films studied include Rome Open City 1945 Paisan 1946 The Bicycle Thief 1948 and Umberto D 1952

Italian Neorealist Cinema Christopher Wagstaff, 2007-01-01 The end of the Second World War saw the emergence in Italy of the neorealism movement which produced a number of films characterized by stories set among the poor and working class often shot on location using non professional actors In this study Christopher Wagstaff provides an in depth analysis of neorealist film focusing on three films that have had a major impact on filmmakers and audiences around the world Roberto Rossellini's Roma citt aperta and Pais and Vittorio De Sica's Ladri di biciclette Indeed these films are still more than half a century after they were made among the most highly regarded works in the history of cinema In this insightful and carefully researched work Wagstaff suggests that the importance of these films is largely due to the aesthetic and rhetorical qualities of their assembled sounds and images rather than as commonly thought their particular representations of historical reality The author begins by situating neorealist cinema in its historical industrial commercial and cultural context He goes on to provide a theoretical discussion of realism and the merits of neorealist films individually and collectively as aesthetic artefacts He follows with a detailed analysis of the three films focusing on technical and production aspects as well as on the significance of the films as cinematic works of art While providing a wealth of information and analysis previously unavailable to an English speaking audience Italian Neorealist Cinema offers a radically new perspective on neorealist cinema and the Italian art cinema that followed it European Film Theory Temenuga Trifonova,2009-09-10 European Film Theory explores the Europeanness of European film theory its philosophical origins the culture wars between Continental and Analytical film theory and philosophy the major discursive and epistemological shifts in the history of Continental film theory the relationship between Continental philosophy of art and philosophy of history and European film theory Writing from a range of disciplines and perspectives the contributors to this new volume in the AFI FILM READERS series offer fresh interpretations of European film theorists and illuminate the political potential of European film theory Italian Post-Neorealist Cinema Luca Barattoni,2012-10-09 Unlike countries like France the Czech Republic or Brazil Italy did not have a new wave properly understood as a movement However while new artistic schools were emerging in many other countries Italy was undergoing its most dramatic social and economic transformations Those violent changes together with the perceived necessity of renewing the aesthetic heritage of Neorealism sparked a drastic regeneration of the cinematic language and marked the most memorable period of Italian film history Italian Post Neorealist Cinema explores the ferment of Italian cinema from the mid 50s to the end of the 60s situating its wealth in the context of other national cinemas emerging at the same time Olmi Pasolini Antonioni Fellini Visconti the Taviani Brothers Cavani Rosi Ferreri and many others all made their debut or directed their most representative works during the period The book brings to the surface the lines of experimentation and artistic renewal appearing after the exhaustion of Neorealism mapping complex areas of interest such as the emergence of ethical concerns the relationship between ideology and representation and the role of Italian counter culture
