The Blue Parade Thomas A. Reppetto,1978 This social history extends from 18th century London to 20th century California and explains why police forces have developed differently in the major cities of America Police personality profiles highlight the book The three major models of policing in Great Britain from 1748 1890 are examined The manner in which police forces of the period coped with problems of vice crime and social unrest are outlined

Police methods and attitudes are discussed for New York City from 1845 1914 for Boston from 1854 1943 for the states of Pennsylvania and New Jersey from 1905 1940 and for the state of California from 1901 1942 When a law enforcement comparison was made of American and British cities it was found that levels of safety and law and order have always been higher in Britain Two of the broadest problems that faced the American police were vice crimes and gangs of predatory males On a higher level the gangs became organized racketeers and professional criminals The American police have been more concerned with antisubversive activities over the years Models of law enforcement are illustrated including the patrol type the constabulary and the detective model The three mechanisms for control of the police law administration and politics are detailed The practical differences among the three mechanisms are discussed In dealing with group images the existence of five major interest groups are noted the social elite the business elite the progressive the blue collar class and the radicals The effects of these groups on police development are outlined A discussion of the secret agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation and the Secret Service from 1850 1945 is presented Photographs a bibliography and extensive notes are provided

Report Connecticut. Adjutant-General's Office,1896 American Police Thomas A. Reppetto,2010-12-28 From its beginnings in eighteenth century London this is the history of the largest urban police departments in the United States and a social portrait of America during the first century of its existence From the birth of the New York City Police Department in 1845 to the end of World War II each city had its share of crime murders vice drug dealers and addicts Boston New York Chicago Philadelphia San Francisco and Los Angeles each had their own history and developed in different ways according to local realities But in every case each police department had to deal with its share of good and bad cops Pinkertons gangsters revolutionists politicians reporters muckrakers arsonists murderers district attorneys strikers labor spies hanging judges and axe swinging crusaders as well as every conceivable element of American society high and low But American Police also offers a view of the FBI and its legendary director J Edgar Hoover District Attorney Earl Warren and police commissioners such as Teddy Roosevelt Stephen J O Meara Richard Enright Grover Whalen Louis J Valentine and August Vollmer and tough cops like Captain William Clubber Williams Johnny the Boff Broderick and John Cordes It is also the history of crime over the course of a century that transformed the United States from a former colony of the British Empire to a powerful and restless nation poised for spectacular growth Thomas A Reppetto a former commander of detectives is the author of NYPD and American Mafia
