The Black and White of Selling Ray Jones,1980      The Feather ,1900      Race, Ethnicity, and Place in a Changing America John W. Frazier,Eugene Tettey-Fio,2006      Department Stores and the Black Freedom Movement Traci Parker,2019-02-06 In this book Traci Parker examines the movement to racially integrate white collar work and consumption in American department stores and broadens our understanding of historical transformations in African American class and labor formation Built on the goals organization and momentum of earlier struggles for justice the department store movement channeled the power of store workers and consumers to promote black freedom in the mid twentieth century Sponsoring lunch counter sit ins and protests in the 1950s and 1960s and challenging discrimination in the courts in the 1970s this movement ended in the early 1980s with the conclusion of the Sears Roebuck and Co affirmative action cases and the transformation and consolidation of American department stores In documenting the experiences of African American workers and consumers during this era Parker highlights the department store as a key site for the inception of a modern black middle class and demonstrates the ways that both work and consumption were battlegrounds for civil rights      The London and China Telegraph ,1885      Closed Doors, Opportunities Lost John Yinger,1995-12-07 Yinger writes as if four decades of protest and progressive legislation have barely altered the terrain upon which minority Americans struggle for equality He's right Yinger figures that housing discrimination costs black homebuyers 5.7 billion and Hispanic homebuyers 3.4 billion every three years Washington Monthly Nearly three decades after the passage of the Fair Housing Act illegal housing discrimination against blacks and Hispanics remains rampant in the United States Closed Doors Opportunities Lost reports on a landmark nationwide investigation of real estate brokers comparing their treatment of equally qualified white black and Hispanic customers The study reveals pervasive discrimination Real estate brokers showed 25 percent fewer homes to the minority buyers and loan agencies were 60 percent more likely to turn down minority applicants Realtors and lenders also charged higher prices to minority buyers withheld or gave insufficient financial and application information and showed them homes only in non white neighborhoods Residents of minority neighborhoods faced further difficulties trying to sell their homes or obtain housing credit and homeowner's insurance Economist John Yinger provides a lucid account of these disturbing facts and shows how deeply housing discrimination can affect the living conditions education and employment of black and Hispanic Americans Deprived of residential mobility and discouraged from owning their own homes many minority families are unable to flee stagnant or unsafe neighborhoods Two thirds of black and Hispanic children are concentrated in high poverty schools where educational achievement is low and dropout rates are high The employment possibilities for minority job seekers are diminished by the ongoing movement of jobs from the cities to the suburbs where housing discrimination is particularly severe Altogether these effects of housing discrimination create a vicious cycle discrimination imposes social and economic barriers upon blacks and Hispanics and the resulting hardships fuel the prejudice that leads whites to associate minorities with neighborhood deterioration Closed Doors Opportunities Lost provides a history of fair housing and fair lending enforcement and joins the intense debate about integration policy Yinger proposes a bold comprehensive program that aims not only to end discrimination in housing and mortgage markets but to reverse their long term effects by stabilizing poorer neighborhoods and removing the stigma of integration He urges reforms to strengthen the enforcement powers of HUD and other agencies provide funding for poor and integrated schools encourage local housing and race counseling programs and shift income tax breaks toward low income homebuyers Closed Doors Opportunities Lost provides valuable insight into the causes extent and consequences of housing discrimination undeniably one of America s most vexing and important problems This volume speaks directly to the ongoing debate about the nature and causes of poverty and the underclass civil rights policy the Community Reinvestment Act and the plight of our nation s cities
