Posthumanism and Literacy Education Candace Kuby,Karen Spector,Jaye Johnson Thiel,2018-07-16 Covering key terms and concepts in the emerging field of posthumanism and literacy education this volume investigates posthumanism not as a lofty theory but as a materialized way of knowing becoming doing the world The contributors explore the ways that posthumanism helps educators better understand how students families and communities come to know become do literacies with other humans and nonhumans Illustrative examples show how posthumanist theories are put to work in and out of school spaces as pedagogies and methodologies in literacy education With contributions from a range of scholars from emerging to established and from both U S and international settings the volume covers literacy practices from pre K to adult literacy across various contexts Chapter authors not only wrestle with methodological tensions in doing posthumanist research but also situate it within pedagogies of teaching literacies Inviting readers to pause slow down and consider posthumanist ways of thinking about agency intra activity subjectivity and affect this book explores and experiments with new ways of seeing understanding and defining literacies and allows readers to experience and intra act with the book in ways more traditional re presentations do not

Authenticity and How We Fake It Aaron

Duplantier,2016-07-21 Consumers today are invested in reality based media such as reality television and social media which in theory draw content from somewhere off screen in our lived experience This is seen as more authentic than the predominantly fictional media of the latter half of the 20th century Yet much of reality TV and social media is known by both consumers and creators of content to be scripted or contrived Addressing this problem deepens consumer engagement as authenticity becomes a preoccupation driving the extension of a new media ethic of truth and savvy This dynamic is key to understanding consumers changing attitudes about the media they value Reality TV Facebook and YouTube have created a paradigm shift in the media landscape Analyzing these three established platforms all of which have a stake in the conversation about authenticity this book sheds light on the complicated behaviors and choices of media consumers
