Foreword Guidebook for Preparing Airport Emissions Inventories for State

Implementation Plans, 2013 TRB's Airport Cooperative Research Program ACRP Report 84 Guidebook for Preparing Airport Emissions Inventories for State Implementation Plans is designed to assist in the preparation of airport emissions inventory component of a State Implementation Plan. The Guidebook offers a basic, intermediate, and advanced approach for preparation of an airport emissions inventory. Each approach is progressively more complex, requiring increasingly detailed input data that generates greater airport specificity and accuracy. The choice of a particular approach is up to the user as a function of the level of response appropriate to a specific airport, the demands of the facility and the surrounding community, and data availability. A CD ROM which is included with the print version of the report contains an Airport Emissions Estimator Tool that applies to the basic approach. In addition, the CD ROM includes the appendixes that accompany ACRP Report 84 as well as other project specific material.

Publisher's description Stratospheric Flight Andras Sobester, 2011-06-28 In this book, Dr. Andras Sobester reviews the science behind high altitude flight. He takes the reader on a journey that begins with the complex physiological questions involved in taking humans into the death zone. How does the body react to falling ambient pressure? Why is hypoxia oxygen deficiency associated with low air pressure so dangerous and why is it so difficult to design out of aircraft? Why does it still cause fatalities in the 21st century? What cabin pressures are air passengers and military pilots exposed to and why is the choice of an appropriate range of values such a difficult problem? How do high altitude life support systems work and what happens if they fail? What happens if cabin pressure is lost suddenly or even worse slowly and unnoticed? The second part of the book tackles the aeronautical problems of flying in the upper atmosphere. What loads does stratospheric flight place on pressurized cabins at high altitude and why are these difficult to predict? What determines the maximum altitude an aircraft can climb to? What is the coffin corner and how can it be avoided? The history of aviation has seen a handful of airplanes reach altitudes in excess of 70 000 feet what are the extreme engineering challenges of climbing into the upper stratosphere? Flying high makes very high speeds possible what are the practical limits? The key advantage of stratospheric flight is that the aircraft will be above the weather but is this always the case? Part three of the book investigates the extreme atmospheric conditions that may be encountered in the upper atmosphere. How high can a storm cell reach and what is it like to fly into one? How frequent is high altitude clear air turbulence what causes it and what are its effects on aircraft? The stratosphere can be extremely cold how cold does it have to be before flight becomes unsafe? What happens when an aircraft encounters volcanic ash at high altitude? Very high winds can be encountered at the lower boundary of the stratosphere what effect do they have on aviation? Finally part four looks at the extreme limits of stratospheric flight. How high will a winged aircraft ever be able to fly? What are the ultimate altitude limits of ballooning? What is the greatest altitude that you could still bail out from? And finally what are the challenges of exploring the stratospheres of other planets and moons? The author discusses these and many other questions the known knowns the known unknowns and the potential unknown unknowns of stratospheric flight through a series of notable moments of the recent history of mankind's forays into the upper atmospheres each of these incidents accidents or great triumphs illustrating a key aspect of what makes stratospheric flight aviation at the limit.

On 4 November 2010 a flight from Singapore to Sydney came within a knife edge of being one of the world's worst air disasters. Shortly after leaving Changi Airport an explosion shattered Engine 2 of Qantas flight QF32 an Airbus A380 the largest and most advanced passenger plane ever built. Hundreds of pieces of shrapnel ripped through the wing and fuselage creating chaos as vital flight systems and back ups were destroyed or degraded. In other hands the plane might have been lost with all 469 people on board but a supremely experienced flight crew led by Captain Richard de Crespigny managed to land the crippled aircraft and safely disembark the passengers after hours of nerve racking effort. Tracing Richard's life and career up until that fateful
