Don Peppers,Martha Rogers,2012-04-26 How companies can stay competitive in a world of total transparency With their first book 1993 s The One to One Future Don Peppers and Martha Rogers introduced the idea of managing interactive customer relationships long before the Web and social networking made it standard business practice With Extreme Trust they look to the future once again predicting that rising levels of transparency will require companies to protect the interests of their customers and employees proactively even when it sometimes costs money in the short term The importance of this trustability will transform every industry Retail banks won t be able to rely as much on overdraft charges Consumers will expect retailers to remind them when they have unused balances on gift cards Credit card companies will coach customers to avoid excessive borrowing Cell phone providers will help customers find appropriate calling plans for their usage patterns Success won t come from top down rules and processes but from bottom up solutions on the part of employees and customers themselves And the most successful businesses will earn and keep the extreme trust of everyone they interact with

Behavioral Processes in Online Identity-Related Issues Xi Chen,Ivan Wen,Qixing Qu,Wenjing Chen,2024-07-11 With the development of advanced media technologies cyberspace is gradually transforming from temporal immersion into a state of new normal An increasing proportion of our daily lives has become a mix of physical and virtual worlds As a complex social psychological phenomenon online social identity has attracted widespread attention from academia to industry Identity related issues have been noted as an important subject of Internet interdisciplinary research including social psychology sociology personality psychology and health psychology Communication in cyberspace always carries some degrees of anonymity for users present virtual identities constructed by themselves in cyberspace hiding their real identities and constructing their online identities as a form of social identity enactment On the other hand online media provides tools and environments for virtual identity building. Although the anonymity of the internet facilitates the subjects construction of their virtual identity, their online virtual identity is not completely anonymous and can be identified and authenticated online, thereby meaning we can research how online identity relates to real world identity. Identification is a social process that matches internal self identity with external identity types and it is also a process and a reflection of internal perceptions and mere identification with a group has been shown to dramatically affect behavior as per social identity theory.
