research both within and without the academy the contributions in this volume demonstrate the manner in which field methods are adjusting transforming or taking new forms altogether If textbooks might lead students to believe that observations and interviews are the grounds upon which good ethnography can regularly be produced the authors in this volume take as their point of departure the realisation that ethnography is being used in a multitude of different contexts which forces them and us as readers to question the regularities and irregularities of their own work The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells,2009 Visual Arts Research ,2005 Annual Meeting Program American Educational Research Association,2008 Journal of Cultural Research in Art Education ,2011 The Imagination in Education Sean Blenkinsop,2009 This collection of essays from scholars in eleven countries centres upon the theory and practice of the use of imagination in education By bringing together studies covering a wide range of subject matter we trust that the reader will have the opportunity to appreciate both the diversity within the field and the significance of the topics discussed We hope too that readers will find connections to their own areas of study The 13 essays present distinct yet converging points of view whether it be a discussion of the imagination as a virtue the use of imagination as a means to improve aboriginal education in Northern Canada or the description of a museum in Brazil in which the imagination of the child is central to the project Separately each of the papers identifies and explores a distinct aspect of Imaginative Education together they begin to define the breadth and richness of the field These essays have been selected from papers presented over a period of several years to research symposiums in imagination and education held every summer in Vancouver Canada under the auspices of the Imaginative Education Research Group in the Faculty of Education at Simon Fraser University
