Wireless Broadband Networks David T. Wong, Peng-Yong Kong, Ying-Chang Liang, Kee C. Chua, 2009-04-01 An introduction to theories and applications in wireless broadband networks. As wireless broadband networks evolve into future generation wireless networks, it is important for students, researchers, and professionals to have a solid understanding of their underlying theories and practical applications. Divided into two parts, the book presents Enabling Technologies for Wireless Broadband Networks: orthogonal frequency division multiplexing and other block-based transmissions; multi-input multi-output antenna systems; ultra-wideband; medium access control; mobility; resource management; routing protocols for multi-hop wireless broadband networks; radio resource management for wireless broadband networks; and quality of service for multimedia services. Systems for Wireless Broadband Networks: long-term evolution; cellular networks; wireless broadband networking with WiMax; wireless local area networks; wireless personal area networks; and convergence of networks. Each chapter begins with an introduction and ends with a summary, appendix, and a list of resources for readers who would like to explore the subjects in greater depth. The book is an ideal resource for researchers in electrical engineering and computer science and an excellent textbook for electrical engineering and computer science courses at the advanced undergraduate and graduate levels.

Networking and Mobile Computing Xicheng Lu, Wei Zhao, 2005-09-06 Welcome to Zhangjiajie for the 3rd International Conference on Computer Network and Mobile Computing (CCNMC 2005). We are currently witnessing a proliferation in mobile wireless technologies and applications. However, these new technologies have ushered in unprecedented challenges for the research community across the range of networking, mobile computing, network security, and wireless web applications and optical network topics.

ICCNMC 2005 was sponsored by the China Computer Federation in cooperation with the Institute for Electrical and Electronics Engineers IEEE Computer Society The objective of this conference was to address and capture highly innovative and state of the art research and work in the networks and mobile computing industries ICCNMC 2005 allowed sharing of the underlying theories and applications and the establishment of new and long term collaborative channels aimed at developing innovative concepts and solutions geared to future markets The highly positive response to ICCNMC 2001 and ICCNMC 2003 held in Beijing and Shanghai respectively encouraged us to continue this international event In its third year ICCNMC 2005 continued to provide a forum for researchers professionals and industrial practitioners from around the world to report on new advances in computer network and mobile computing as well as to identify issues and directions for research and development in the new era of evolving technologies

Mobile Networks Jesús Hamilton Ortiz, 2012-05-09 The growth in the use of mobile networks has come mainly with the third generation systems and voice traffic With the current third generation and the arrival of the 4G the number of mobile users in the world will exceed the number of landlines users Audio and video streaming have had a significant increase parallel to the requirements of bandwidth and quality of service demanded by those applications Mobile networks require that the applications and protocols that have worked successfully in fixed networks can be used with the same level of quality in mobile scenarios Until the third generation of mobile networks the need to ensure reliable handovers was still an important issue On the eve of a new generation of access networks 4G and increased connectivity between networks of different characteristics commonly called hybrid satellite ad hoc sensors wired WIMAX LAN etc it is necessary to transfer mechanisms of mobility to future generations of networks In order to achieve this it is essential to carry out a comprehensive evaluation of the performance of current protocols and the diverse topologies to suit the new mobility conditions
