The New England Fishing Economy Jobs Income And Kinship:

The New England Fishing Economy Peter B. Doeringer, Philip I. Moss, David G. Terkla, 1986 This is a book about the fishing industry in New England its structure its work and the way it adjusts to change It documents the recent economic experience of one of America's oldest industries on that has recently been at the center of well publicized boundary and trade disputes The study blends customary sources of economic data with field interviews original survey material and analyses of economic institutions to provide a timely picture of the industry and its problems This close examination reveals a rich array of adjustment mechanisms Of particular interest is the contrast between capitalist collective bargaining and kinship practices governing jobs and income in the industry The authors also present new data on the skills job attachment and economic options of workers in key New England ports particularly Gloucester and New Bedford The fishing industry is concentrated in economically fragile ports and the authors show the importance of a strong fishing industry and a growth economy for easing adjustment problems The study develops a set of innovative recommendations for fisheries management and addresses policies for promoting stabilization and growth in port economies The Economics of Rebuilding Fisheries Workshop Proceedings OECD, 2010-04-15 This conference proceedings presents an overview of the major economic and institutional issues associated with rebuilding fisheries and provides examples of national and international initiatives

Sharing the Fish National Research Council, Commission on Geosciences, Environment, and Resources, Ocean Studies Board, Committee to Review Individual Fishing Quotas, 1999-06-09 Most U.S. fish stocks are fully or over exploited and harvesting in many fisheries far exceeds sustainable levels The individual fishing quota (IFQ) is a relatively new instrument under which harvesting privileges are allocated to individual fishermen innovative yet controversial for its feared effect on fishing communities and individual fishermen Based on testimony from fishermen regulators environmentalists and others Sharing the Fish explores how IFQs might address the serious social economic and biologic issues raised by depleted fish stocks In their approach to a national policy on IFQs the panel makes direct recommendations to Congress the Secretary of Commerce the National Marine Fisheries Service regional fishery management councils state authorities and others This book provides definitions and examples reviews legislation and regulations and includes lessons learned from fisheries on the U.S. East Coast and in Alaska and in Iceland New Zealand and other nations The committee discusses the public trust doctrine management of common pool resources alternative and complementary approaches to the IFQ and more Sharing the Fish provides straightforward answers that will be important to fishery policymakers and regulators natural resource economists fishery managers environmental advocates and concerned fishermen and their communities Privatization Becky Mansfield, 2009-03-25 Contemporary privatization remakes nature society as property and transforms people's relationships to themselves each other and the natural world This groundbreaking collection provides the first systematic analysis of neo liberal privatization Rich casestudies of privatization in the making reveal both the pivotal role that privatization plays in neoliberalism and new opportunities for challenging neo liberal hegemony Rich case studies linked to broader questions on neoliberalism Illustrates the importance of property relation and the complexities existing in the meaning and practice of property Extends current geographical scholarship on neoliberalism including neoliberalism and nature Each essay touches on the disciplinary regulatory dimensions of privatization Highlights the importance of privatization both broadly and specifically
