Morton Hunt

The New Knownthings The Political Foes Of The Scientific Study Of Human Nature:

Ik weet dat jij weet dat ik het weet Steven Pinker, 2025-10-25 Het nieuwe big idea book van de schrijver van de bestseller Verlichting nu Zonder dat we er ons bewust van zijn denken wij continu over elkaars gedachten over elkaars gedachten tot in het oneindige Dit wordt in de psychologie gemeenschappelijke kennis common knowledge genoemd en Steven Pinker laat zien dat dit een enorme impact heeft op ons sociale politieke en economische leven Gemeenschappelijke kennis is nodig voor het maken van willekeurige maar complementaire keuzes zoals rechts rijden en zich verenigen achter een politieke leider of beweging Maar mensen doen ook hun best om gemeenschappelijke kennis te vermijden zo doen we soms of we de olifant in de kamer niet zien Pinker laat zien hoe de verborgen logica van gemeenschappelijke kennis veel mysteries van het leven kan verklaren financiële bubbels en crashes revoluties die uit het niets lijken te komen de uitbarsting van shaming op sociale media en academische cancelcultuur en de ongemakkelijkheid van een eerste date Research in the Social Scientific Study of Religion Joanne Marie Greer, David O. Moberg, 2001-04 Various articles are presented covering psychological sociological and cross cultural topics or relevance to religious spiritual researchers and academics

Research in the Social Scientific Study of Religion, Volume 11 Joanne Marie Greer, David O. Moberg, 2021-11-22 The purpose of this book is to provide an outlet for original research articles examining the role and value of religious and spiritual constructs across the social sciences The aim of the series is to include an international and interfaith voice to this research dialogue An effort is made to be interdisciplinary and academically eclectic The articles in each volume represent a wide array of perspectives and research projects Most of the articles report the findings of quantitative or qualitative investigations but some deal with methodology theory or applications of social science studies in the field of religion and some are applied demonstrating the relevance of the social sciences to religious organizations and their clergy The value of the volume is that it gives to researchers in this area a broad perspective on the issues and methods of religious research across a spectrum of academic disciplines The aim of the book is to stimulate a creative integrative dialogue that will enhance interdisciplinary research Evolution Science and Ethics in the Third Millennium Robert Cliquet, Dragana Avramov, 2018-01-10 The book aims to revitalise the interdisciplinary debate about evolutionary ethics and substantiate the idea that evolution science can provide a rational and robust framework for understanding morality It also traces pathways for knowledge based choices to be made about directions for future long term biological evolution and cultural development in view of adaptation to the expected probable and possible future and the ecological sustainability of our planetary environment The authors discuss ethical challenges associated with the major biosocial sources of human variation individual variation inter personal variation inter group variation and inter generational variation This book approaches the long term challenges of the human species in a holistic way Researchers will find an extensive discussion of the key theoretical scientific aspects of the relationship between evolution and morality Policy makers will find information that can help them better understand from where we are coming and inspire them to make choices and take actions in a longer term perspective The general public will find food for thoughts

The Quest for Sexual Health Steven Epstein,2022-03-23 Offering an entryway into the distinctive worlds of sexual health and a window onto their spillover effects sociologist Steven Epstein traces the development of the concept and parses the debates that swirl around it Since the 1970s health professionals researchers governments advocacy groups and commercial interests have invested in the pursuit of something called sexual health Under this expansive banner a wide array of programs have been launched organizations founded initiatives funded products sold and yet no book before this one asks What does it mean to be sexually healthy When did people conceive of a form of health called sexual health And how did it become the gateway to addressing a host of social harms and the reimagining of private desires and public dreams Conjoining sexual with health changes both terms it alters how we conceive of sexuality and transforms what it means to be healthy prompting new expectations of what medicine can provide Yet the ideal of achieving sexual health remains elusive and open ended and the benefits and costs of promoting it are unevenly distributed across genders races and sexual identities Rather than a thing apart sexual health is intertwined with nearly every conceivable topical debate from sexual dysfunction to sexual violence from reproductive freedom to the practicalities of sexual contact in a pandemic In this book Steven Epstein analyzes the rise proliferation uptake and sprawling consequences of sexual health activities offering critical tools to assess those consequences expand capacities for collective decision making and identify pathways that promote social justice

When Everyone Knows That Everyone Knows . . . Steven Pinker,2025-09-23 From one of the world s most celebrated intellectuals a brilliantly insightful work that explains how we think about each other s thoughts about each other s thoughts ad infinitum It sounds impossible but Steven Pinker shows that we do it all the time This awareness which we experience as something that is public or out there is called common knowledge and it has a momentous impact on our social political and economic lives

The New Know-nothings Morton M. Hunt,1999 Morton Hunt gives us the first serious overview of this threat to behavioral and social science research He illustrates precisely how scientific research has been subjected to political attack The New Know Nothings illustrates this phenomenon using in depth case histories and background discussions of the conflicting social forces involved It considers the prevalence of each form of opposition to research using interviews with expert observers in the sciences and government

The Story of Psychology Morton Hunt, 2007-12-18 Fully revised and incorporating the dramatic developments of the last fifteen years The Story of Psychology is a graceful and absorbing chronicle of one of the great human inquiries the search for the true causes of our behavior Back cover Psychology: From Inquiry to Understanding Scott Lilienfeld, Steven Jay Lynn, Laura Namy, Nancy Woolf, Graham Jamieson, Anthony Marks, Virginia Slaughter, 2014-10-01 Psychology from inquiry to understanding 2e continues its commitment to emphasise the importance of scientific thinking skills It teaches students how to test their assumptions and motivates them to use scientific thinking skills to better understand the field of psychology in their everyday lives With leading classic and contemporary research from both Australia and abroad and referencing DSM 5 students will understand the global nature of psychology in the context of Australia's cultural landscape The Futurist, 1999 The New Know-nothings Morton Hunt, 2017-09-29 In recent years political religious and other special interest groups have waged war on behavioral and social research projects that threaten their interests and values They have hounded researchers out of universities cut off their funding through congressional and state legislative pressure and harassed them with public demonstrations and picketing all in the hope of forcing them to abandon their research Formerly such unwanted involvement came from activists on the left Now it comes from all across the political spectrum as anti science attitudes and techniques have diffused throughout society In addition conservative and religious forces lobby Congress and state legislatures against funding for major research projects of which they disapprove This phenomenon represents a grave threat to both scientific freedom and the well being of modern society Morton Hunt gives us the first serious overview of this threat to behavioral and social science research He illustrates precisely how scientific research has been subjected to political attack The New Know Nothings illustrates this phenomenon using in depth case histories and background discussions of the conflicting social forces involved It considers the prevalence of each form of opposition of research has been subjected to political attack The New Know Nothings illustrates this phenomenon using in depth case histories and background discussions of the conflicting social forces involved It considers the prevalence of each form of opposition to research using interviews with expert observers in the sciences and government Hunt reviews the nature nurture debate biological contributions to gender differences conservative opposition to sex research in the schools the debate over the controlled drinking approach to alcoholism animal rights versus scientists rights to use animals in research the controversy over day care anthropological research needs versus the Native American repatriation of re Science under siege Peter Banks, Daniel Lunney, Chris Dickman, 2012-11-01 On Saturday 29 November 2008 the Royal Zoological Society of NSW held a forum with the theme of Science under siege As the RZS is a zoological society zoology under threat became the secondary theme and the basis for selecting speakers This book records that forum with the papers developed for this book as the written word from the spoken presentations Papers that were presented as posters are included as are the

edited plenary sessions which featured questions from the floor with answers and comments encouraged from anyone in the forum We were delighted that Mark Horstman from ABC Catalyst was willing to replace his peripatetic colleague Paul Willis who was nonetheless very happy to write the foreword There is a place for such skilled science communicators we need more of them and scientists at the lab bench or in the field or exploring computer models or those that have now taken a job in the policy world need to stay in touch with them Some might say that the title Science under siege seems a bit extreme but we invite you to examine the evidence as presented in this book What follows is an edited version of the introductory material that advertised the forum The title looks dramatic but if you ask yourself is anything killing the science in your area of interest you might be surprised that you come up with a point or two Then ask a wider set of questions such as are there any pressures that preclude people from doing good zoology do either political budgetary constraints impact on your field is science in the media a subject that influences the outcome of your work are there economic impediments to careers in zoology is the education mix in Australia right for this new century are the best researchers becoming full time administrators or the converse the poor researchers becoming the administrators can you place the Australian situation in an international context are there reduced opportunities for human interactions with the natural world is the virtual world killing reality and what are your predictions of the future To deal with such issues the Royal Zoological Society of NSW has structured the day to emphasize a range of themes beginning with identifying the issues including those that are persistent and those that are emerging and encompassing palpable hits to science Direct and indirect hits to science include such matters as the withdrawal of funding subversion of science death by 1000 cuts redirection of funding to fashion issues and using the name of science to justify things that are really not justifiable The name of science is being dragged down We need to confront the ever present problem of ignoring the scientifically accurate for the politically correct This raises such questions as to whether basic skills in biology are not being acquired because of public concern based on extreme animal rights propaganda Good science is not optional but what can be done if you are under siege The answers include understanding the philosophy of science the legal perspective and asking what scientists are or should be doing Audience participation will be a central part of this forum The plenary sessions will address questions raised by the speakers and the posters and debate issues and consider options for future directions It is widely known that it is hard to pull a major paper together on this theme but so many scientists know of at least one matter that they would like to draw to public attention So short contributions are included Listen to the speakers present some overarching themes or compelling case studies contribute to the debate on the day then examine your stance on a variety of these subjects to see whether the day changes your view of this often cryptic aspect of zoology As editors we wish to acknowledge the skills of the referees all papers were refereed by two peers and the patience of the authors for what has been a long gap between the date of the forum and this publication By the end of 2008 the Royal Zoological Society of NSW along with everyone else was caught by the GFC Global

Financial Crisis and we simply had to extend the length of the queue for publication We also reassessed our mode of publication The Council of the Society voted to publish this production as an ebook as well as a short print run for formal library deposit and other essential matters The ebook is open access to enhance the reach of the papers and the ideas At the same time the Royal Zoological Society of NSW signed a contract for a more international mode of access of the publications of the Society and papers are now available via Metapress <http://rzsnsw.metapress.com> Science remains under siege in our view and now we have been alerted to the range of issues it becomes easier to spot the small irritating closing of options that collectively amount to a denial of science and its relegation to an optional way of looking at the world During production of this book this matter became obvious on a number of fronts which led us to invite the paper by Rosie Cooney and colleagues to defend their science of kangaroo conservation and commercial harvesting from an attack on the science We also saw that this issue of science under siege needs more airing and the Royal Zoological Society of NSW is planning its forum for the end of 2012 to take up another strand of this theme by capitalizing on the lifelong insights of scientists under the rubric of grumpy scientists an ecological conscience of a nation This idea in fact derives directly from the suggestions in the plenary sessions by Nick Holmes and Charley Krebs We are also concerned for young scientists with science under siege manifesting often in a failure to create permanent careers for science graduates that advance science itself and zoology in particular from flourishing and identifying problems and finding solutions If we want to conserve the native fauna of Australia then Australian zoologists will have to be key team members We contend that to put science under siege and zoology under threat we not only further imperil our native wildlife but also the careers of the small band of specialists that can see the issues find the problems implement solutions and evaluate the outcomes In short science under siege is not a light matter and no one in this forum thought so Read on form an opinion and speak up and publish your thoughts your examples and your solutions
