The Nervous Nineties:

The Nervous Nineties, 1990 The Nervous Nineties Kersi Meher-Homji, 1995-12 Collection of cricket statistics and anecdotes dealing with players who just failed to reach a century playing Test first class and junior level cricket Presents information such as the number of nineties scored by each player in 1260 Test matches the greatest number of nineties scored by a cricketer in test and one day international games and some bizarre ways in which a batsman has been prevented from scoring 100 runs The author's other publications include the acclaimed Out for a Duck The Art of Centuries Steve James, 2015-04-09 A century has always had a special resonance in all walks of life and none more so than in cricket Scoring one hundred runs is the ultimate for a batsman As former England captain Andrew Strauss admits it's incredibly hard to do for Ricky Ponting it's a transformational moment in the career of a cricketer Or in the words of Geoffrey Boycott a century has its own magic In The Art of Centuries Steve James applies his award winning forensic insight to the very heart of batting Through interviews with the leading run scorers in cricket history and his own experiences Steve discovers what mental and physical efforts are required to reach those magical three figures Despite his own haul of 47 first class tons he himself felt at times that he was poorly equipped for the task So working out how to score centuries is an art And bowlers might not agree but there really is no better feeling in cricket Gangland: The Revised Edition Mark Davis, 1999-07-01 Panics over the culture wars political correctness and victim feminism rap music ecstasy and body piercings our cultural landscape is currently peppered with examples of a desperately backward looking stasis and a fearful hanging on In Gangland Mark Davis analyses the dated ideals and assumptions of Australia's cultural establishment and their near monopoly on cultural debate Who are these people What do they do How is their influence affecting public forums and the media Where does that leave the young people of today Davis's irreverent prose cuts across the moral panics and anxieties that characterise Australian culture to detect a deep seated fear of change a fear that is often expressed as hostility towards youth Gangland names names and maps networks laying bare the discrepancies between reality and the images peddled by some of Australia's most popular thinkers questioning the ideas that have characterised Australia in the nineties Deserves to become a manifesto for a disenfranchised generation Australian Financial Review Finally somebody on the side of late teens and twentysomethings in Australia a brilliant argument of a book Adrian Smart Cream Gangland has sparked a valuable debate one which I've been looking forward to for years Kathy Bail Australian Book Review One of a Kind Ashley Mallett, 2008-08 Doug Walters one of Australia's most loved cricketing heroes speaks to Ashley Mallett about cricket and cricketers past and present The End of American Exceptionalism David M.
