Neurological, Psychiatric, and Developmental Disorders Institute of Medicine,Board on Global Health,Committee on Nervous System Disorders in Developing Countries,2001-01-01 Brain disorders neurological psychiatric and developmental now affect at least 250 million people in the developing world and this number is expected to rise as life expectancy increases Yet public and private health systems in developing countries have paid relatively little attention to brain disorders. The negative attitudes, prejudice and stigma that often surround many of these disorders have contributed to this neglect. Lacking proper diagnosis and treatment, millions of individual lives are lost to disability and death. Such conditions exact both personal and economic costs on families, communities and nations. The report describes the causes and risk factors associated with brain disorders. It focuses on six representative brain disorders that are prevalent in developing countries: developmental disabilities, epilepsy, schizophrenia, bipolar disorder, depression and stroke. The report makes detailed recommendations of ways to reduce the toll exacted by these six disorders. In broader strokes, the report also proposes six major strategies toward reducing the overall burden of brain disorders in the developing world.

Neurodevelopmental Disabilities Dilip R. Patel,Donald E. Greydanus,Hatim A. Omar,Joav Merrick,2011-04-07 Increasingly more and more children with developmental disabilities survive into adulthood Pediatricians and other clinicians are called upon to care for an increasing number of children with developmental disabilities in their practice and thus there is a need for a practical guide specifically written for paediatricians and primary care clinicians that addresses major concepts of neurodevelopmental pediatrics In the United States the specialty training leading to a conjoint board certification by the American Board of Pediatrics and American Board of Psychiatry and Neurology requires a total of 6 years of training 2 years of pediatrics 1 year of neurology 18 months of child neurology 18 months of neurodevelopmental disabilities As of December 2006 in the US there were 241 pediatricians and 55 child neurologists certified in the subspecialty of Neurodevelopmental Disabilities Thus most of the children with developmental disabilities are seen by pediatricians and therefore it is important for these pediatricians to be well informed of common issues in the field The 60 000 or so pediatricians in the United States and hundreds more in other countries are the main target audience for a practical book on neurodevelopmental pediatrics Child Neurology and Developmental Disabilities Joseph H.
