Fodor's,1995 The Oxford Handbook of Modern Irish History Alvin Jackson,2014-03 Draws from a wide range of disciplines to bring together 36 leading scholars writing about 400 years of modern Irish history Legacies of the Turf Edward L. Bowen,2004 With Volume 2 of Legacies of the Turf II Edward Bowen focuses on the men whose horses have dominated racing in the last half of the 20th century and into the 21st He has woven together a rich tapestry of horse racing lore Irish Economic Development Eoin O'Leary,2015-02-20 This book offers a discerning narrative on the spectacular rise and fall of the so called Celtic Tiger economy It depicts Ireland as a micro state with a unique reliance on foreign assisted businesses driven in part by a favourable taxation regime It shows that rent seeking by trades unions and property developers contributed to the fall since 2002 Although the country's highly centralized government's pre disposition to lobbying has yielded international successes it has also resulted in recurring self inflicted crises since 1970 This volume shows how Ireland's export led growth is associated more with the attraction of foreign assisted businesses than with the development of critical masses of internationally competitive indigenous businesses Although the success of foreign assisted businesses in the pharmaceutical ICT and finance sectors has been influenced by tax advantages many of these businesses have been involved in highly productive activity in Ireland over a number of decades The problem of rent seeking is shown to have undermined Irish competitiveness in the internationally traded and sheltered sectors The Irish policy mind set is shown to lean towards distribution rather than growth While this has been advantageous for how Ireland Inc interacts with other governments and international businesses it has also resulted in a failure to resist the destructive effects of capture by lobbies In conclusion this book considers future opportunities offered by the EU's smart specialization policy and future threats from increased international tax competition It argues that unless Irish citizens and policymakers change deep seated attitudes and mind sets towards business development the country's performance for the next number of decades will more likely resemble serial under achievement than that of a high performing EU state A Compendium of Tuleyome Tales, Volume 1

Ireland, '98 Fodor's, Fodor's Travel Publications, Inc. Staff, 1997 Elizabeth Webster is a cantankerous spinster pushing seventy. Forced out of her school teaching job, she unleashes her sharp tongue and dogmatic opinions on everyone in the English village of Little Blessington. Then one cold spring night, sitting on the sofa alone, she grinds to a dead halt. To recover from this mysterious near-fatal illness, her doctor sends her on a journey to a North African country where she ventures into the desert and has a brush with terrorism. Miss Webster, however, no longer cares about anything, least of all Islamic politics and suicide bombers. Three weeks after her return, there is a ring on her doorbell. Standing there in the gusty darkness is a young Arab man of astonishing beauty. Worryingly, he is carrying a large suitcase. But who is Cherif? Why is he there and what does he want? Patricia Duncker's new novel is a comedy of errors set in the aftermath of 9/11 in a darkening world moving towards war. This tale about friendship, trust and liberation is full of reversals and surprises, tenderness and humour.

BOOK JACKET A Journey Into Ireland's Literary Revival R. Todd Felton, 2007-05-01 A great tide of literary invention swept through Ireland between the 1890s and the 1920s. This engrossing, illuminating and beautifully illustrated guidebook explores the personal and professional histories of writers such as W.B. Yeats, Lady Gregory, John Millington Synge and Sean O'Casey, and examines their relationships with the people, culture and landscapes of Ireland. From Galway and the Aran Islands to County Mayo and County Sligo, and from Dublin to Wicklow, this guide to the places that inspired Irish Literary Revival showcases the locations where many of Ireland's finest writers shaped an enduring vision of the country.

Remembrance and Imagination Joseph Theodoor Leerssen, 1997 The nineteenth century witnessed the growth of Irish cultural nationalism as a dominant force in the country's political and literary life. Remembrance and Imagination is a major study which charts the development and impact of a national self image through key texts and key episodes and does so by placing the history of two cultural spheres side by side literature and historical scholarship. The literary and discursive work of writers like Lady Morgan, Maturin, Thomas Moore, Thomas Davis, Yeats and Synge is placed against the background of contemporary debates concerning the true historical and cultural identity of Ireland while developments in the historical sciences are traced in their impact on the literary imagination. Special attention is given to the influential scholar George Petrie and to the far ranging and persistent controversy concerning the round towers. The Irish self image in the nineteenth century attempted to formulate permanence, tradition and continuity in the face of historical and political divisions and incoherence. The cultivation of a glorified past and of an idyllic peasantry are central preoccupations in Irish national thought. This book analyzes the discourse, rhetoric, stereotypes and ingrained attitudes with which those preoccupations were invested both in literature and historical scholarship. The book closes with a reinterpretation of the position of Synge and Joyce in repudiating the nineteenth century schemata of representing Ireland. Fast Facts, 2005
