Abstract

This study aims to investigate the messages conveyed in CenkBlonk Shadow Puppet. Descriptive qualitative method was used in this study. The writer selected one of the YouTube videos of CenkBlonk official channel based on two criteria; a) it provided adequate data, b) it had several fields of discussion. The data was collected by firstly watching the video several times then transcribing, translating, and analyzing the data. Dell Hymes' SPEAKING (setting and scene, participants, ends, act of sequence, key, instrumentalities, norms of interaction and interpretation, and genre) mnemonic in Ethnography of Communication (EC) theory was used to analyze the data. The finding shows that messages are mostly conveyed explicitly by puppet characters in three different fields such as religion, finance, and education. Those messages contained suggestion, advice and moral values in order to be followed by all people. The show also amused the viewer within the messages conveyed in the form of hilarious jokes.

INTRODUCTION

As the most effective means of communication, language is pivotal in the world (El-Zaghal, 2021). Through language, one can tell information, convey feelings and ask for something. To do such roles, language is transformed into various kinds of text and discourse of different life fields such as economy, education, spirituality, family, work, health, and community. Discourse that is attached to such field/s share people's arguments or opinions regarding the situation they or other people are running.

Drawing from this narration, there is an intelligent artist as well as a lecturer. He is I Wayan Nardayana, the puppeteer of CenkBlonk shadow puppet from Bali. His sharp intellectual insight leads him to weigh up the contextual phenomena of educational, economic, social, and political realms in Indonesia, especially in Bali to his puppets' themes. The writer found that almost all of his shows contained social critical comments and deep suggestions for the people. According to Sugiwardana (2014: 86), a social critic is a form of communication in a society that aims to control its social system. Through social criticism, it is hoped that there will be better changes in lives.

The innovative social criticism is often brought by Nardayana in two or more life fields, such as religion, economy, education, politic and many more. Not only smart but he is also creative. Since the pandemic of Covid-19, he has interestingly made various recordings of shadow puppets uploaded on his official YouTube channel. There have been 131 series videos uploaded covered into five playlists up to December 2022. The video length is normally between 15 and 20 minutes. The core idea contained in his videos is generally the same as other puppet shows, which are about
