Stolen Years Paul Hill,Ronan Bennett,1991    Legal Action ,1990    The Economist ,1990    Fiction and the Northern Ireland Troubles Since 1969 Elmer Kennedy-Andrews,2003 This volume reflects an evolving situation in the North of Ireland where fiction has overtaken poetry and drama as the most significant and vital literary form Through an analysis of representative texts Kennedy Andrews explores fiction from or about the North from the outbreak of the Troubles in 1969 to the present day The bulk of the study covers recent fiction by new young writers born in the 1960s that grew up during the Troubles To what extent can this new writing be seen to penetrate new literary terrain through versions of a pluralistic postmodern humanism To what extent does the new writing inaugurate new mappings of identity and culture beyond the simple binaries of Protestant and Catholic Nationalist and Unionist thereby suggesting new possibilities for the future To what extent does it cross other borders to present a transnational vision informed by the rest of Ireland Britain Europe and America The study concludes by considering some of the questions raised by women s writing of the Troubles The volume contains detailed assessments of such writers as Tom Clancy Jack Higgins Gerald Seymour Terence De Vere White Eugene McCabe Brian Moore Maurice Leitch Bernard McLaverty Glenn Patterson Robert MacLiam Wilson Dermot Healy Briege Duffaud Deirdre Madden David Park Colin Bateman Lionel Shriver Danny Morrison Ronan Bennett Seamus Deane Edna O Brien Mary Beckett Kate O Riordan and Mary Costello    The Time Out Book of London Short Stories Maria Lexton,1993 Contains 25 short stories set in or about London commissioned by Time Out magazine to celebrate their 25th anniversary in 1993    The Psychology of Interrogations and Confessions Gisli H. Gudjonsson,2003-01-10 In this sequel to The Psychology of Interrogations Confessions and Testimony Gisli Gudjonsson focuses specifically on aspects of vulnerability confabulation and false confessions supported by vivid case illustrations and the latest theories    The Guardian Index ,1990

Political Prisoners and Trials James R. Bennett,1995 Arranged by country this text includes articles from journals pamphlets organizational reports and books on political prisoners and their trials    Saothar ,1991    Books ,1991

The English Reports: Exchequer (1220-1865) ,1915    Muck, Silk and Socialism John Platts-Mills,2001 An account of John Platts Mills unusual career in law and politics Witnessing most of the changing events of the 20th century Platts Mills is a truly empowering politically radical Queen s counsel and renowned jurist who has offered humane counsel to world political leaders for 50 years    The Northern Ireland Legal Quarterly ,1990    Criminal Justice in Crisis Michael McConville,Lee Bridges,1994 In recent years the English criminal justice system has been shaken to its foundations by an unprecedeted series of miscarriages of justice The Guildford Four the Maguire Seven the Birmingham Six Judith Ward and Stefan Kiszko are among the most prominent of those eventually cleared of serious crimes after many years in prison While the sheer numbers of cases involved are troubling it is the underlying causes of wrongful conviction which threw the system s credibility into question and led to the establishment of the Royal Commission on Criminal Justice chaired by Lord Runciman

In Criminal Justice in Crisis an internationally distinguished group of leading academics practitioners and campaigners critically examine the Royal Commission's Report with its proposals for removal of the right of a defendant to elect jury trial the introduction of institutionalised plea bargaining a compulsory obligation on the defence to disclose its case prior to trial and extended police powers over suspects. The authors provide detailed criticisms of the Report at empirical practical policy and theoretical levels. At best the Report is seen as unhelpful at worst it is considered a dangerous contribution to reform efforts. This important book will be welcomed by scholars practitioners and researchers as the only extended analysis of the Runciman Report available and for providing a broad analysis of the theory and politics of criminal justice.

Writings on Irish History, 1989    Aspects of the Belfast Agreement Rick Wilford, 2001 This edited collection assembles leading experts on the politics and constitution of Northern Ireland to explore and analyse aspects of the 1998 Belfast Agreement. For most the Agreement represented an inclusive political bargain while others perceived it as an act of betrayal whether of the Union or conversely of republicanism. These rival interpretations are discussed by a number of the contributors alongside assessments of the roles performed by key actors both within and outside Northern Ireland in forging the Agreement. The more immediate provenance of the Agreement is complemented by a comparison with its often cited predecessor the 1973 Sunningdale Agreement and the former's consociational plus design is explained while its legislative implementation is set within the context of cross cutting constitutionalism ushered in by the UK's wider devolution process. The collection also includes a discussion of the British Irish Council and the early operation of both the Executive Committee and the Assembly elected in 1998. The elections themselves suggested the emergence of an embryonic and fragile pro and anti Agreement cleavage that transcended the orthodox ethno nationalist division in Northern Ireland and this proposition is subjected to analysis in the collection. Public and elite attitudes towards the Agreement in the Republic of Ireland are also discussed as is the controversial report of the Patten Commission on the reform of the RUC. The acceptance of the consent principle by the Agreement's signatories and the open ended constitutional future it bequeathes to Northern Ireland have created a form of devolution that is delicately poised. The delayed and faltering implementation of the 1998 Agreement suggests that its promise is yet to be fully realized. This collection in focusing upon key aspects of the Agreement seeks to explain both its complexity and some of the difficulties thus far encountered in putting it into effect.

The Dead Sea Scrolls Deception Michael Baigent, Richard Leigh, 1992 Over the last two years a controversy has erupted in the world's press over the Dead Sea Scrolls that were found in caves 20 miles east of Jerusalem between 1947 and 1956. Professor Geza Vermes of Oxford calls it the academic scandal par excellence of the 20th century. Professor Morton Smith of Columbia University protests that there is no justification for the cover up and Professor Robert Eisenman of California says we're tired of being treated contemptuously.

International Who's Who of Authors and Writers 2008 Europa Publications, 2007-08-23 An invaluable source of information on the personalities and organizations of the literary world.
